MILK PRICE LOBBY OF PARTY BARED

Alaska Wary Of Raid

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The Fairbanks News-Miner reported Wednesday that a "yellow" air attack alert was called in Alaska at 10 p.m. Saturday from the Aleutians to Attu Island and Fairbanks.

The paper said it was the first alert since the Second World War that "definitely was not a practice alert." The News-Miner added that Civil Aeronautics Administration range stations were shut down and that jet pilots on leave were ordered back to their bases.

In Washington, the United States Air Force said it was notified that a "yellow" alert was called briefly but that the alert was so short and results so negative that details were not transmitted to Washington.

Affidavits Presented

'Large Personal Interest' Of Senator Gets Mention

BY T. A. MYERS

Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan yesterday tied in the legislature documents purporting to show that the former Liberal government had scrapped a plan to decontrol milk prices after a protest from a Liberal senator who had a "large personal interest" in the matter. Mr. Kiernan read excerpts from the documents—affidavits, telegrams, letters and newspaper clippings—then filed them with the clerk of the House "without comment."

W. T. Straith (L.Victoria), a member of the former Liberal cabinet, accused the government of "mean, universal smear tactics" in presenting only a part of the case.

He also charged that the Social Credit government is planning "deep-seated measures as a "political move," in the hope of bringing about lower milk prices for a few days just before the next election.

Mr. Kiernan filed the series of documents as he set out to disprove CCF Leader Harold Winch's statement that the decontrol policy was proposed by the Social administration as a solution to the milk problem had been "pulled out of the blue."

"This policy wasn't pulled out of the blue," Mr. Kiernan said. "What we are doing was first considered and proposed by the milk board over a year ago."

Then he filed affidavits taken in October, two months after the Socreds came to office, from a Vancouver lawyer and an independent milk producer alleging their impressions of a "confidential" meeting between the milk board and 23 Vancouver milk distributors.

The meeting was held January 21, 1952.

According to the affidavits, milk board chairman R. C. Cary told the distributors that the board had decided on a plan for decontrol which would gave producers a better price to farmers for their milk, open the district to milk from competition, ensure that no distributors were elated at a loss and require the printing of all distributors' orders.

This plan as outlined in the affidavits was discussed briefly with the one recently proposed by the Socreds.

Mr. Kiernan then filed a telegram from a Vancouver lawyer dated January 23, three days after the meeting in which the details of the "confidential" meeting were outlined.

He also filed copies of three telegrams which he said were signed by New J. W. deB. Farris of Vancouver. The wires were addressed to Liberal Premier Byron Johnson, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer and Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman.

The contents of all three telegrams was identical. It read:

"Today's milk price decontrol dictates complete revision of method of distributing milk in Lower Mainland. Would not question proposal will lead to distribution of milk through cheaper and consumer level as well as distributor. This is a serious embarrassment to government of province. Submit that cabinet should not complete ratification of order with such far-reaching implications without at least hearing representations from us. Strongly urge

Duke in Britain To Visit Mother

LONDON (Reuters)—The Duke of Windsor arrived from New York Wednesday night on a short visit during which he will see his mother, Queen Mary.

Clad in an overcoat and carrying a small suitcase, the Duke stepped off the Queen Mary at Southampton early this morning. He was met by Queen Mary's equerry, Major Hon. Edward Ward, and driven to her home at Marlborough House.

Queen Mary, who is suffering from an unusual trouble, had another comfortable day.

The Duke said he had flown to Britain "to see my mother."

AAA Trims Approval List

Twenty hotels, restaurants and auto courts of Greater Victoria have been cut from Automobile Association approval lists for failure to meet AA safety and hotel standards.

The American Automobile Association and Victoria Auto Club are "clamping down on the AAA approvals made in the past years, particularly in regard to standards," George I. Warren, city spokesman for the club said yesterday.

Standards include general appearance, equipment, furnishings, maintenance and cleanliness, and atmosphere. Some well-known businesses are among those affected, and appeals have been launched by some, Mr. Warren said.

Businesses relieved of AAA approvals will no longer be allowed to display the AAA sign.

Inspection of the premises was made by a national association inspector from Washington, D.C.

Kiernan Rapped

There's a difference between pumping a gasoline pump and heading up the government's finances.

Liberal Leader Harold Winch pointed out in the legislature yesterday.

He said the Agriculture Minister, Kenneth Kiernan, a former Chilliwack garage operator, has put the milk industry in a mess.

"Everyone of us have been visited by irate housewives in recent years," said veteran Mr. Winch, but only a few months ago Mr. Kiernan was congratulating himself on having everything cheap in the province."

He said that the government members thought there knew how everything about everything — but they don't.

Hot Welcome For Red Jets

American fighter pilots will give a hot reception on future visits to any Communist jets that come looking for trouble over the West, Lieutenant-General Hoyt Vandenberg, United States Air Force spokesman says.

American pilots didn't have a chance to return fire when two Soviet built MiG-15s shot down a U.S. F-84 Thunderjet, the spokesman said Wednesday.

Blaze Loss Heavy

By The Canadian Press

A blaze raised at least a million dollars damage in Montreal's downtown area early today.

It destroyed a three-storey building and damaged two others.

Firemen fought the flames for more than three hours.

The fire started in the basement of the Montreal Electric Light Co. building.

Another heavy downtown blaze Tuesday night caused damage estimated at $500,000 to the Montreal Star building.

The other Maritime outbreaks: Fire destroyed a $500,000 warehouse of the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. in Moncton and left a block of the business section in ruins at Tatamagouche, N.S.

Ocean Combed For Eight

NEW YORK (AP)—A dramatic search was on Wednesday for seven men, including the pilot and the engineer, who stranded in cold North Atlantic seas on the lure of a broken oil pump.

Twenty-eight crew members of the Liberian tanker Lancaster were snatched from the ships icy, silent grasp of twelve hours after a report of trouble was received.

The lone survivor of the ill-fated tanker was Chief Engineer Ivan Ivanoff.

The Lancaster plowed into a violent northerly blizzard with a broken pump and was forced to a standstill.

Ivanoff decided to stay with the ship and the engineer eight men to leave the ship were 50-year-old Ivanoff and Chief Engineer Ivan Ivanoff.

There was no sign of the seven when the rescue ships arrived.

Police Regain Stolen Cash

MT. ANGEL (The AP)—A youthful bandit made off with about $10,000 in a daylight bank robbery here Wednesday, but state police said they arrested a man and recovered the money five hours later. A state patrolman said that an 18-year-old boy was caught with the money at Mill City, about 40 miles southeast of here on a road through the Cascade Range to eastern Oregon.

Farouk Has Visitor; Squeeze Play Hinted

ROME (Reuters)—Former king Farouk of Egypt appears to be deeply immersed in a special kind of mother-in-law trouble.

Madame Asalia Sadek, mother of his teen-aged wife, was reported Wednesday to have brought with her to Farouk's villa outside Rome an "ultimatum from Premier Mohamed Naguib, the man who forced the portly monarch off his throne last July.

The ultimatum, the report said, threatened to end the dynasty and establish an Egyptian republic unless Farouk permits his 14 months-old son, King Ahmed Fuad II, to return to Cairo for his upbringing.

Madame Sadek, described as "an ambitious woman," may be trying to persuade her daughter to accept Nagguib's terms, it added, because she prefers to be grandmother of a reigning king than mother-in-law of an exiled one.

Farouk's spokesman issued a string of denials about a swarm of rumors and reports awaiting about the villa. But on one point — the reported ultimatum — there was no denial.

The spokesman said he had no details on the reasons for Madame Sadek's current visit.

Asked if it was connected with any message from Naguib, the spokesman said:

"Possibly they have to discuss certain matters."

In a more confident vein, the spokesman denied reports that Farouk divorced his 19-year-old wife Tuesday night, that the red-haired former queen will not leave Farouk and return with him the big king to Cairo that their 22-month marriage was on the rocks and that Narriman is expecting a second child.

Whatever the state of Farouk's marital relations, he seems headed for an immediate showdown with Naguib on the infant king's future, a constitutional commission in Egypt is now studying the question of whether to scrap the monarchy and establish a republic.

Once Farouk allows his son to return to Egypt he will lose the one weapon on which his wife aims chances of returning from exile depend.

On the other hand if Egypt carries out any plan to establish a republic, both Farouk and his son will lose out.

SEOUL (AP)—The 1st Commonwealth Division has been withdrawn from the Korean battlefront and placed in reserve for the first time since November after undergoing 81 days of constant enemy shelling. Then they had two or three days of complete rest and parties to enable the men to blow off steam.

The rest was needed. Enemy shelling so disorganized the ROK position last October 23 and so scattered its ammunition reserves that the men could fight only until the ammunition in their weapons was exhausted.

Mother-in-Law Comes Calling

Farouk Faces Dilemma

ROME (Reuters) — Former there was no denial.

King Farouk's mother-in-law, Queen Nazli, flew to Egypt apparently to be deeply immersed in a special kind of mother-in-law trouble.

Madame Aasila Sadek, mother of Farouk's wife Narriman, reported Wednesday to have brought with her to Farouk's wife Narriman, Rome visa "a manifestation of the Queen Mother's mission" from Premier Mohammed Naguib, the man who ousted the portly monarch off his throne last July.

The ultimatum, the report said, threatened to end the dynasty unless Farouk's pregnant republic unless Farouk permits his 14-month-old son, King Ahmed Fuad II, to return to Cairo for his upbringing.

Damage $1,500,000 In Maritimes Fires

By The Canadian Press

A huge machine shop at Halifax shipyards was destroyed Wednesday in one of three early-morning fires in the Maritimes which caused damage estimated at more than $1,500,000.

North America's worst fire of the day was at Newark, N.J., where 14 workmen, trapped by flames and pitch-black smoke, died in a nest of fermentation tanks under construction at the Anheuser-Busch brewery.

Another blaze Wednesday caused $35,000 damage at Lone Lake, Sask., where a quarter of the town's main street was destroyed. No one was injured.

Officials said work on two navy subchasers at the Halifax yards will not be seriously delayed but the heavy repair schedule will be thrown out of gear at the peak of the busy winter season.

The other Maritime outbreaks destroyed a $500,000 warehouse of the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. in Moncton and left a block of the business section in ruins at Tatamagouche, N.S.

Favor Of AAA Cut Off

Twenty hotels, restaurants and auto courts of Greater Victoria have been cut from American Automobile Association listings for failure to meet association standards.

The American Automobile Association and Victoria Auto Club are "clamping down on official appointments made in past years, particularly in regard to standards," George F. Warren, city spokesman for the club, said yesterday.

Standards include general appearance, equipment, furnishings, maintenance and cleanliness, and atmosphere. Some well-known businesses are among those affected, and appeals have been launched by some, Mr. Warren said.

Businesses relieved of AAA appointments will no longer be allowed the display association sign.

Inspection of the premises was made by a national association inspector from Washington, D.C.

Establishments eligible for association membership include auto courts which have at least six rental units, each with private bath; and hotels, inns or similar units which must have at least 10 rentable rooms six of which should have private baths and the rest at least running water. Tourist homes are not eligible.

Specific reasons for suspension of the individual members were not given by Mr. Warren. He said, however, that each member suspended has been sent an outline of AAA requirements.

This includes the report that "some of the unfavorable conditions found by our inspectors include unscrubbed showers, clogged lavatory drains, dirty drinking glasses, spattered mirrors, unsanitary toilet seats, sticky doorknobs, littered premises, linen and medicine chests, face powder and nail dresser tops, dusty closet shelves and dusty lamps."

Canada's Force Off Battle Front

The following dispatch, written February 18, has been released for publication.

SEOUL (AP)—The Commonwealth Division has been withdrawn from the Korean battlefront and placed in reserve for the first time since it was formed in July, 1951. The decision was pulled off the line January 31.

American and South Korean divisions are placed in reserve periodically in Korea.

This is the first time since the Commonwealth Division a period of intensive training was formed that Commons. The brigade commander, Brig. wealth troops have not been on M. P. Rogers, kept his men conthe firing line.

The division is composed of the Canadian, British and Australian infantry and supporting arms and services, New Zealand artillery, an Indian medical unit and a small South African artillery detachment.

Lieut.-Gen. William Bridgeford, retiring commander-in-chief of Commonwealth forces in Korea, told reporters he thought the planing of the division in reserve was a "very good thing."

Eight Lost On Bow Of Tanker

NEW YORK (AP)—A dramatic search was on Wednesday for an Israeli tanker, its captain, and the captain's wife, stranded in wild North Atlantic seas on the bow of a broken oil tanker.

Twenty-eight crew members of the Liberian tanker Angy were snatched from the ship a dozen miles east of Jersey City, N.J., by the Coast Guard cutter Androscoggin after a night of terror in 70-foot seas off New York.

The bow is not in sight. The radioed the rescue ship, the 6,620-ton American freighter Claiborne.

The Claiborne plowed on toward Marseilles, France, with the survivors while the U.S. Coast Guard took over the hunt for the imperiled eight who were in the bow when the 9,937-ton Angy split in half three days ago.

The Coast Guard cutters and a plane were thrown into the search, racing against time and the relentless sea in hope the bow still was afloat with its human cargo.

Rescued crew members said a group of unidentified origin sparked cracking explosions that tore the Angy in two behind the bridge.

Police Regain Stolen Cash

MT. ANGEL, Ore. (AP)—A youthful bandit made off with $4,000 in cash in a daylight bank robbery here Wednesday, but state police said they arrested a man and recovered the money five hours later. A state patrolman radioed that an 18-year-old boy was charged with the theft of the money at Mill City, about 25 miles southeast of here on a road through the Cascade Mountains to eastern Oregon.

The radio report said a sack full of money and a pistol were found in the car the boy had been driving.

Work Order Asked For B.C. Strikers

KIMBERLEY (CP)—The provincial labor relations board has been asked to order 300 striking construction workers back to their jobs at the multi-million-dollar Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. fertilizer plant here.

The men walked out as a result of 18 months of negotiations with the contracting company, Stone & Webster, Inc. An arbitration award that would have put the men back to work was rejected by the union.

A second walkout of construction workers in support of the fertilizer shutdown is planned Thursday at the huge CMS power project at Waneta, near Trail. Stone & Webster are contractors there.

Officials of the five AFL building trades unions involved said a delegation will fly to the trouble spot Thursday to urge the men to go back to work and to start talks to settle the dispute.

Hot Welcome Promised For Red Jets

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—American fighter pilots will give a hot reception in future to any Communist jets that come looking for trouble over West Germany, a United States Air Force spokesman says.

American pilots didn't have a chance to return fire when two Soviet-built MiG 15s shot down a U.S. F-84 Thunderjet, the spokesman said Wednesday.

The decision to shoot back was emphasized as Communist Czechoslovakia, whose pilots flew the MiG 15s, countered an American protest over the incident with a counter-charge that the Thunderjet and its patrol mate trespassed violated Czech territory.

Medal Decided For Coronation

OTTAWA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Mint has got the go-ahead to produce an estimated 3,000,000 Coronation medals to be distributed to Canadian school children.

Announcement that the government has decided to have the medals struck was made in the Commons Wednesday by Finance Minister Abbott, who said they will be distributed to the children throughout the provinces, which have the responsibility for education.

"The medal will probably be bronze, as was the special school children's medal struck in 1939 in connection with the Royal visit. That medal bore a likeness of the King and Queen on one side with a map of Canada on the reverse.

A Coronation award medal was struck in 1937 for the Coronation of King George VI, but this was not generally distributed among school children.

First step in the issuing of the Queen Elizabeth Coronation medal will be the selection of designs for both sides of the coin. The designs will need the approval of the special Commons committee, the Canadian government, and the Queen herself.

Battle Starts On Successor To Trygvie Lie

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—An East-West battle over who is to succeed Trygve Lie as secretary-general of the United Nations got under way Wednesday as the Soviet and pro-Western candidates—including Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines for the job, Russia countered by putting in the name of the Polish foreign minister, Stanislaw Skrzeszewski.

One of the council's small powers, Denmark then proposed Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, and president of the General Assembly.

The council took no decision but decided to meet privately again Friday afternoon.

Duke Arrives in Britain To Visit Ailing Mother

LONDON (CP)—The Duke of Windsor arrived from New York Wednesday night to visit his ailing 85-year-old mother, Queen Mary.

With him on the flight from Queen Elizabeth, which docked at Southampton, was his sister, the Princess Royal. She cut short a five-week visit in the West Indies to return to her mother's bedside.

Queen Mary, who is suffering from stomach trouble, had another comfortable day. The Duke said he had two telephone talks with the Queen's doctor, but had not spoken to the Queen herself.

"Queen Mary has never spoken on the telephone in her life," he said. "She is scared of it."

Greatly relieved that the Queen is reported recovering, he told reporters: "We were very worried last week."

The Duke said he didn't know how long he would stay in Britain. Indicating it depends on the Queen's condition.

In my opinion proposed plan will lead to distruption of the industry at purchasers' and producers' level as well as distributor This means serious embarrassment to government of province Submit the matter should not consider ratification in order with such far-reaching implications without further representations from us. Strongly urge that we be given this consideration. As you know I have a maintain a preferred position, large personal interest in this but we do assert the right and duty of this government to act in the best interests of all the people of the province. This we have done."

The telegrams were filed in Vancouver at 5:39 p.m. on January 24, only a few hours after the newspaper account of the later attacked the government's "confidential" meeting reached the streets.

Then he filed a newspaper story printed the next day which said the Liberal government had decided to delay a decision on the matter "for at least 10 days."

No action on the matter was subsequently taken by the Liberal government, which went out of office last Aug ust.

Mr. Kiernan also filed a telegram and a letter which he said were sent by Alan Sproat who was Gordon Wisner's running mate in the Vancouver Centre in last June's election Both were defeated.

The telegram was addressed to Mr. Wisner, and was dated February 25, 1952. It read:

"Deeply concerned over pend ing cabinet decision on fixed milk board. Am sure I sense the feeling of the people currently in thinkings that the original order should go through as stated to various Vancouver groups Women here who contrain at producer prices or failing that at least two cents differential in stores Why not let healthy competition operate a fixed price to farmers for their milk, open the distribution of milk to competition, ensure that no distributor operated at a loss and require the bonding of all distributors.

"This plan as outlined in the affidavits is almost identical with the one recently proposed by the Socreds."

With G. E. Mortimore

ALL my life I have been waiting for this to happen.

According to a recent news report, 16 proofreaders on an East German newspaper were arrested for sabotage after it was found that their paper had praised Joseph Stalin as a fighter for "war" instead of peace.

This news will bring a muffled cheer to the lips of every, the most fervently anti-Communist news-

Ahem! Proof-room! Let's try that again.

Ehery reporter in etaoin shrdlu. Reporter in the world is firmly convinced that the world avery raporto is etanin.

Well, you can see what I am trying to say.

In rational moment a reporter will admit that proofreaders are a fine body of men, doing a hard job. But who can be rational about proofreaders?

Probably a lot of our notions about printers and proofreaders are exaggerated. I mean, now and then they allow a couple of lines to wander from one story to another, making complete nonsense out of both stories. But that doesn't happen very often, does it? said in the legislature Wednesday that Social Crediters

Half the time we blame the poor old printers and proofreaders for our own mistakes, too. The printers and proofreaders are the scapegoats of every news paper. Whenever some angry citizen claims that his name has been misspelled, or that he has been charged in print with armed robbery instead of speeding on a school zone, the city editor falls back on that old alibi:

"It wasn't our fault. It was a typographical errah it wnrz a shrdlu.

That old alibi it was a falls back on.

It is well known that our finely-wrought newspaper prose is soon used to wrap fish. But we feel that the fish hereabouts deserve a well-edited shroud. Just in case a person here and there chances to read part of the newspaper while he is unwrapping a salmon steak, we do our best to have the words mean something.

For this reason we hinw our caps when printers' errors, scarce though they are, reduce our work to gibberish.

Sixteen proofreaders arrested. As representatives of a free press, the news from Berlin should make us unhappy. "Too bad," we ought to say. But things being the way they are, we say nothing of the kind.

"So they put some proofreaders in jail at last," the average newsman is likely to remark. Well, it's about time we'll let us say put some representatives of a free press etaoin shrdlu.

Word on Federal Five-Day Week Expected This Month

BY BILL MAYOR

Federal civil servants in Victoria may know by the month's end whether they are to get the five day work week.

The situation locally is under review by the civil service commission and the federal cabinet. And advice is that a decision will be known this month said G. K. Sammon, district representative of the Civil Servants' Federation of Canada.

If the shorter work week is given most of civil servants here would be affected, said Mr. Sammon. The association does not expect relief where public service can be lessened, or where additional help is required.

Figures to support the stand that the five-day work week is prevalent in Greater Victoria were compiled by the federation here and showed that in firms with 10 or more employees 73.5 per cent are on the short week. While firms with 101 or more employees are 84.4 per cent on the short week. The statistics came from the department of labor, said Mr. Sammon, and since they were compiled other firms have granted the five-day week.

Some much sought amendments to the Industrial Council and Arbitration Act by trade unions are before the legislature in a bill introduced by James Bury (CCF Van couver Centre).

Maintenance of union membership for both present and new unionists is sought as a condition of employment. Supervision by the Labor Relations Board on strike votes by employees, lock out votes by employers or on submission of a settlement offer to either side in requiring a vote, would be eliminated under a proposed amendment.

A strike or a lock out would be required to give seven days notice.

Another amendment provides that the LRB would have to "consult with all interested parties" and the film later before making regulations governing its procedure.

The amendment also would set out that the LRB has no power to interpret a trade union constitution.

Among numerous other amendments asked in the requirement that all decisions and rulings of the board be given in writing.

Amendments are also sought to the Annual Holidays Act, increasing to two weeks from one week annual holidays and boosting to 4 per cent from 2 per cent the annual holiday pay.

A new act, the "Equal Pay Act, 1953," has been introduced by Mrs. Laura Jamieson, CCF. The act would require equal pay for male and female employees "for work of comparable character done in the same establishment."

Differences in rates of pay based on any factor other than sex would not constitute a failure to comply with the section.

Failure in comply with provisions of the act would result in a fine not exceeding $100. The minister of labor would be required to counsel in writing to Crbes Acts concerning trade unions also have been introduced including two by Labor Minister Lyle Wicks. These are to make it possible to establish uniform overtime conditions for workers on a project under the Male and Female Minimum Wage Acts.

Total Outlay On Defense Estimated

RIVERS, Man. (CP) The cost of Canada's three-year defense program by the time it is complete in 1954 will be $5,227,000,000, Defense Minister Claxton said Wednesday.

Speaking to members of army and air force staff colleges at Rivers air station, Mr. Claxton said the figure included ex- ... able estimate for the balance. It included $1,172,000,000 for personnel, $2,729,000,000 for equipment and $1,303,000,000 for operations and maintenance.

The minister said this expenditure will not complete the program, but 1954 objectives will be met on time. The program costs more for each of the three years than was spent at the peak of the war, but it is "being paid for as we go."

Mr. Claxton remained at Rivers overnight.

Low Income Ignored, Say B.C. Members

OTTAWA (CP)—Two British Columbia members, one a Progressive Conservative and the other CCF, said Wednesday that the government has forgotten the low-income earner.

Howard Green (PC, Vancouver-Quadra) said the government has "discarded its hair shirt for striped pants." For ... claimed it was protecting the working man. The 1953-54 budget "shows how phoney that appeal has been."

Angus MacInnis (CCF, Vancouver East) said the wealthy will benefit most from the tax relief in the budget.

"Before we begin to give handouts to the well-to-do, we should try to clean up some of these festering sores on our own doorstep," said Mr. MacInnis, referring particularly to housing conditions in various parts of the country.

Opening proceedings were marked by two divisions. Members voted 140 to 50 against a motion by John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) for tabling of correspondence dealing with a transfer of the manager of the ... Canadian National Railways' Fort Garry Hotel at Winnipeg.

Minutes later, members voted 138 to 51 against another attempt by E. D. Fulton (PC, Kamloops) to obtain reports on defense department administration.

In the debate, Mr. Green said that only a new government could make substantial savings.

He referred to speculation that the government will postpone an election until next spring. Liberal members, he said, are now finding out that the 1953-54 budget isn't so "wonderful."

Mr. Green suggested that working mothers should be allowed to deduct for income tax purposes the expenses of caring for their children during their working hours.

Out-of-town travel and living expenses of building trades should be deductible, he said.

The government should repeal the sales tax on goods purchased by municipalities, or manufactured by them for their own use, he said, and the federal government should stop "over-taxing" the taxpayers at their income sources. This year some 2,000,000 Canadians would get back about $85,000,000 which the government had collected.

Furnace Tax Refunds Due Ottawa Rules

OTTAWA (CP)—Refunds running into hundreds of thousands of dollars will be made by the revenue department as a result of a government decision to lift the 10-per-cent sales tax from gas and oil furnaces and air conditioning units.

A department official said Wednesday that the refunds, covering the tax paid on sales of these units since September, 1951, will be made to the manufacturers. In many cases it is expected the manufacturers will turn over the refund to the consumer if the consumer asks for it.

The refunds, which may range between $10 and $40 on individual items, will cover more than 50,000 furnaces and air-conditioning units sold since September 1951.

The decision to lift the sales tax from this type of equipment followed a ruling of the tariff board last January. For years the revenue department has exempted coal and wood furnaces from the tax but imposed it on gas and oil units.

The tariff board, hearing an appeal from an Edmonton gas furnace manufacturer, ruled that parliament intended that gas units also be exempt.

The revenue department, going a step further, decided to extend the exemption not only to gas but oil units and air-conditioning equipment. It made the exemption retroactive to September, 1951.

Luxury-Loving B.C. Spurns Day Coaches

VANCOUVER (CP)—The lunch-toting day coach passenger is a favorite with Canadian railways.

Ian Warren, Canadian Pacific Railway general traffic manager, explained why before the Board of Transport Commissioners here.

The coach passengers bring in more revenue than the plush-riding club car customers.

Mr. Warren explained one of the reasons for the mountain differential on passenger rates is that people in British Columbia prefer sleeping cars rather than the more lucrative day coaches.

The board is hearing B.C.'s application for a reduction from 4.5 cents a mile to four cents a mile in line with the rest of Canada.

On the Vancouver-Calgary run a day coach two-thirds full with 50 passengers gives the CPR $1,285, Mr. Warren said. But a full sleeping car with 10 rooms carries only 20 passengers who pay a total of $798.

On the newer Glen-type cars, with roomettes and bedrooms, the take is only $774.75.

Noted Singer John Goss Dies in Britain

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (CP)—John Goss, well-known vocal recitalist who lived in Canada from 1940 to 1950, has died at his home here. He was 58.

Goss was well known in Britain for what The London Times described as "a large repertory of songs of an unusual nature which delighted the audiences all over the world."

Goss went to Canada in 1940 and settled in Vancouver, where he had a teaching studio.

The Times said: "By means of the individual recital, helped not only by a sympathetic baritone voice, transparent sincerity and fine musicianship, but also by a determination to sing good but little known songs, he quickly became one of the most popular singers of his age."

Used Clothing Gifts No Use to Red Cross

TORONTO (CP)—Persons who send gifts of used clothing to the Red Cross for European flood relief are hampering rather than assisting the society's efforts, a Red Cross official says.

Margaret E. Wilson, executive secretary of the Canadian Red Cross Society who has just returned from a five-week tour of the flood areas, said 50,000 tons of unwanted used clothing from Canada and the United States is now piled in Netherlands dumps.

During the emergency period of the floods the clothing had to be sorted by hand, occupying 1,000 workers 24 hours a day.

"It is natural that people think first of used clothing when asked for help in disasters. But in the case of the Red Cross gifts of money can be put to much better use than bundles of clothes. If people would only sell the clothes they would like to donate, and send the money to the Red Cross, we can buy what is needed most in the distressed areas and send it on their behalf."

Miss Wilson said the Canadian National European Flood Relief fund has now reached $1,152,937, of which $617,713 has been spent on consignments to the British and Netherlands flood areas.

Under Some Suspicion

THE federal transport board will place itself under some suspicion if the present estoppel on Trans Canada Airlines reduction of air cargo tariffs announced for February 15 is now to be pegged to a wholly separate application by the Canadian Pacific Airlines on a new east-west air freight license. If the nationally-owned air line is in a position to make a 30 to 35 per cent reduction in its air cargo charges, as it so announced in January last, what has that to do with a permit for a new service by a different concern now before the board? Would the estoppel have been invoked if the TCA had been asking for an increase?

As matters stand, Vancouver Island cut flower producers have in large part committed themselves to this season's contracts, including the heavy Easter trade. In this they relied upon the direct announcement of the nationally-owned airline. Nothing was said in January by the federal transport board in so far as the growers or the public were aware. To withhold permission now would be to throw considerable losses on those growers who have already contracted for the shipment east by air of their Easter outputs, a trade which runs into material sums in the total. The delay is damaging and should be cleared up.

A more disturbing factor than the immediate loss such an interruption of growers' contracts would imply is the policy behind the linking together of the two airline systems in the mind of the federal transport board. That recalls another occasion on which Vancouver Island received slight consideration indeed. TCA a few years ago announced and applied a reduction in passenger fares between the island and the mainland on through tickets, giving island air travelers the advantage of the lower air mileage rate across Canada. Objection was taken before the transport body, and most of the benefit of this reduction was whittled away.

Is there anything wrong with a reduction in air charges if they can be offered to the public and in these cases were? This paper praised the air express move when it was announced by TCA in January as forward-looking and progressive. What is now the sticking point, the reduction or the board's pending review of a totally separate application for license by a different concern? Certainly Vancouver Island flower growers have some right to feel that they have been misled. Whatever the reason for it, an early decision is essential to cut unnecessary island losses in the Easter flower trade.

One-Chamber Government

DR. Arthur Beauchesne, an acknowledged expert on parliamentary affairs who for quarter of a century was Clerk of the Commons, has put forward an interesting suggestion on reform of the Senate. From the angle of patronage it may not appeal to the federal government, since it would cut this plum in two, but it is the more pertinent for that very reason. His proposal is to have half the Senate filled by appointees of provincial legislatures.

He reasons with some relevancy that the present make-up of the Senate, which is overwhelmingly packed with Liberal nominees, does not carry out the intention of the Confederation Fathers. That it does not. The original idea was to have a second chamber of some independent merit, one that would provide the checks and balances that every parliamentary government requires. What exists now is in effect single-chamber government, with a yes-man Senate given little to do and that little expected to conform strictly to the government's wishes. Only once in a blue moon does the Senate exhibit any show of independence.

Dr. Beauchesne's suggestion would not cure all the present ills. In actual fact it might merely split the patronage favors, since provincial governments no less than federal governments delight in rewarding party workhorses and take pains at all times to look after their friends. At least if the provinces had a say in Senate appointments, however, the favors would be more widely distributed and that chamber might benefit considerably as a result.

One doubts that the prime minister will be attracted to the suggestion, no matter that its origin is beyond caption. The possession of such privilege is too cherished an asset and too powerful a party political weapon to be shared by outsiders, the effect on the composition of the second chamber notwithstanding. That is why there are some 75 Liberals and eight Conservatives in the present Senate, with about 19 vacancies at the pleasure of Liberal bestowal. It is also why the Senate is but a shadow of what the Fathers of Confederation intended it should be.

Where Is the Dictation?

MR. Harold Winch's opposition in the legislature to elimination of fixed prices for milk sold at retail may be consistent with the socialist principle of a controlled economy under governmental regulation. In this instance, however, there is conflict between that principle and the CCF's campaign for lower prices for essential commodities. Mr. Winch has put himself in the peculiar position of opposing something which would give people with small incomes a chance to save on their milk bills. If consumers could save money by walking to the store for milk instead of having it delivered, would it be fair by socialist or any other standards to withhold that saving?

The CCF leader asserts that if retail milk prices were decontrolled one of the large chain store organizations would "dictate" prices in the cities. According to Agriculture Minister Kiernan the company referred to has demonstrated that it could sell milk over the counter for two or three cents a quart less than the price now charged for home delivery, and still make a profit. If it or any other distributor can do that through restoration of the competitive system of marketing, under which everyone sells at his own price, it is hard to see where the element of dictation comes in.

It is futile to suggest that because one merchant sells something at a lower price than his competitors he is dictating the price; if that were so there would be uniform prices for everything the public buys. Instead of removal of controls as a means of giving some benefit to consumers, however, the CCF apparently would be content to see the government go on dictating that they should pay extra for delivery service whether they can afford it or not.

GARIBALDI PARK

Sir,—A recent article in a Vancouver paper stated that the Garibaldi Park Board is attempting to combat the recent bill to rescind the Garibaldi Park Act. This legislation would place the park under the control of the parks division of the B.C. Forest Service.

The Garibaldi Park Board raises the cry of sectionalism, implying that support of the bill comes solely from Squamish, but this is far from the case. The proposed legislation has had the long-time support of the Garibaldi Playground Committee of Vancouver, Alpine clubs and natural history societies.

The reference by the board to extensive developments in the Lake Alouette area about Haney, plus the lack of reference to any development in Black Tusk and Diamond Head areas indicate a sectional attitude by the board in its administration of the park.

Concern over lack of forest branch approval of these developments located in a sub-alpine logged-over area possibly prompts the Garibaldi Park Board to adopt its present attitude.

Proper development would promote those areas most attractive to the large population mass of Greater Vancouver and our increasing number of tourists.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

Sir,—Various groups in the province have registered their objections to some provisions in the recent provincial budget. However, none have greater reason to be dissatisfied than have old-age pensioners who had every right to expect some assistance.

There are several reasons why provisions should have been made in the budget for increasing the bonus to those pensioners in receipt of the bonus. The first and most important reason is the dire need of many thousands of pensioners who are unable to live as human beings should be able to live in a civilized country.

No other reasons should be necessary, but there are several reasons why the provincial government should immediately increase payments to those pensioners who have nothing to live on but their pension and bonus. One of the reasons is that it is costing the provincial government $2,100,000 less for pensions under the new pension plan than it did under the plan in operation prior to January 1, 1952. The explanation for this is, that under the old plan the province paid 25 per cent of pensions to approximately 33,000 pensioners; now it only pays 50 per cent of pensions to approximately 9,000 between the ages of 65 and 70.

In our opinion there is no justification for the provincial government putting this saving into the provincial treasury to help create a surplus. Another reason why the government should increase the bonus is that it is called a "cost-of-living" bonus and consequently should be raised as living costs go up. Living costs have increased greatly since the bonus was first granted seven years ago. Old-age pensioners did not have a very high standard of living when the bonus was first granted, and, with every increase in living costs, have been compelled to lower their already too low standard of living.

Another reason why the government should increase payments to pensioners is that it can afford to do so and has budgeted for a considerable surplus. Part of this should be used to remove the disgrace to British Columbia of having many thousands of its senior citizens living, or trying to live, on an amount of money that will not do any more than keep them alive.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

IT was the reference of a journalist to the "dark brown" voice of his friend that first made me aware that voices might be catalogued by color. True enough some voices are so vivid as to splash a bright pigment straight at you, while others have a monotony that would give you the blues.

But that has to do with their effect, not their inherent hue.

By this token then, a bass voice is a brunette and a tenor is a blonde. Or are these shades rather than colors? Fashion has so subdivided the color processes that a male treads a delicate path in this realm.

A dark brown voice, I imagine, has a sort of homely sound, without the excitement of exotic green or the auspicious dye of pink. Pity that the latter, a nice tint, should be fated to become the symbol of a fellow traveller.

* * *

Churchill's wartime voice would have to be navy blue, I suppose, or something indicative of inspiration, like aquamarine. Eisenhower's tone is perhaps ochre, and St. Laurent's a sort of warm grey.

The sergeant major, he would be if the troops were labeling the hue of his harsh tones black. Not altogether fair, but a khaki reaction.

I doubt that there are enough colors to go the rounds, however. The human voice is a vehicle of infinite variety, and not even the wit of color artists can match nature's versatility. Voices are like faces, the diversity is amazing.

If you are gifted with a pleasing voice the gods have been kind. Most of us do not make the best use of what we have, of course. A voice can be suppled and its tone enriched by careful exercise, but few of us take the trouble to improve on nature as actors perforce must do.

* * *

Perhaps this is just as well. At least one's voice is one's own and there may be something in the theory that one should retain its native timbre and not put a disguise on it. There is also the consolation that no one hears his voice as others do. I myself, find this a very comforting thought.

Some voices seem happily suited to their use. A radio newscaster dealing in gloomy news is in his element if he normally has a sombre tone to his tongue. The odd radio voice is as cheery as cherry red but some others, I am afraid, are as insipid as pale lemon. Purely a matter of taste, naturally: what may be bilious green to one listener is perhaps peach-like to another.

A person doesn't always chat with the same tone he uses elsewhere. In congenial company he might run up and down the color chart as his voice takes on the shades that changing thought invites. This is when the voice is creating its own pigments, without benefit of conscious aid. Elsewhere, perhaps, when trying to make an impression, there is apt to be a switch from a normal orange, say, to an affected heliotrope.

By and large I daresay most of us have voices of the drab persuasion, something like khaki. There is safety in numbers, of course, but also no distinction.

Reports from Ottawa

THE visit of NATO's secretary-general, Lord Ismay, focused attention on Canada's failure for the last two years to spend all the money Parliament voted for military aid to our NATO allies.

Defense department officials refused me information when I asked them the extent of Canada's mutual aid program shortfall.

"That's an embarrassing question, because the figures make us look a little bad," one of Defense Minister Claxton's top executive aides told me. "The deputy minister's office has instructed us not to give those figures out, unless somebody asks for them in Parliament," he added.

The curious thing about the defense department's attitude is that the figures are readily available if one knows where to look for them. In two public documents — Finance Minister Abbott's budget papers, and a Dominion bureau of statistics report on exports.

* * *

Over the last three years, the budget papers show Parliament voted $685,383,108 for mutual aid, but the defense department succeeded in spending only $556,517,216. That's a shortfall of nearly 19 per cent.

In the first year, 1950-51, Parliament voted and defense spent $195,000,000. Defense merely shipped stocks of Second World War weapons and equipment to Europe, and took Parliament's appropriation in payment.

The next year defense spent only $126,000,000 out of the $166,000,000 voted. And last year it spent only $235,000,000 out of $324,000,000. In the coming fiscal year the appropriation is again 3324,000,000. Officials hope that this time they'll be able to spend it all, because volume production of Sabre jets and radar equipment for NATO is now well under way.

But these figures don't tell the entire story. They are made up not only of defense's pricing of its old war materiel — which was not low — but of all sorts of what you might call operating expenses, such as salaries and wages, traveling expenses, postage, films, advertising, etc.

The bureau of statistics' report covers only war materiel actually exported. Its figures show that instead of getting something like half a billion dollars worth of Canadian arms and equipment, our NATO partners received only $242,000,000 worth as of Jan 31.

* * *

There are several reasons why our mutual aid program has fallen so short of expectations that the defense department doesn't want to disclose figures.

After the first shortfall, in 1951-52, it was explained that defense plants were still tooling up. As soon as they hit their stride, we were told, things would be different.

Well, that explanation is still offered. But it doesn't answer why we didn't (1) spend the surpluses outside Canada on behalf of NATO, as the Americans do in their "off-shore" purchasing, (2) give the money to our NATO partners to spend, or (3) give them raw materials so they could develop their own defense production.

The only explanation is government policy, which must be viewed in the light of Lord Ismay's statements that NATO is still weak, that the Russian threat is undiminished and that "everyone in the partnership must, according to his conscience, spend up to the limit."

Real as Rainbows

(From The Christian Science Monitor)

FLYING saucers are as real as rainbows, says a distinguished Harvard astrophysicist, and just as insubstantial.

So be it. But don't think for a moment that that disposes of the subject. It simply turns it over to the poets.

If Wordsworth's heart leaped up when he beheld a rainbow in the sky, is there any reason why his modern counterpart should not leap to the bait when he beholds a silver disc spinning at incredible speeds through the azure air and making clever right-angle turns without slackening its speed?

Obviously not. The cold analyst, after exhaustive examination, may tell us that most of the "saucers" can be written off as birds, planes, balloons, old newspapers, or what have you, mistakenly identified from the ground. And that the rest are unusual atmospheric conditions. Yet even he ends by admitting that some day a "real" interplanetary saucer may reach the earth.

Of course. Just as someday someone is bound to discover a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. In fact, we know a little girl who already has. She is a dreaming-cousin of another little girl called Alice who was present when the first flying saucer — mistakenly identified as a "tea tray in the sky" — was discovered by a mathematician called Lewis Carroll.

You can't bend or twist such facts as that.

The candidate for Congress had lost the election, but he was trying to be big about it. He was preparing to send a message of congratulation to his successful opponent. He reached across his desk, still littered with campaign literature, and picked up the telephone. He called the telegraph office, gave the girl the name and address of the successful candidate and dictated:

"Congratulations on your resounding victory. Permit me to extend to you my heartiest congratulations and to pledge you my wholehearted support."

A moment of silence, then the anguished cry, "No, no, lady! Don't read it back to me—I couldn't stand it!"

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

ONE of the tricky aspects of the democratic and increasingly socialist way of life is how to set some decent limits to the freedom of a man to make a living. There is a type of character among us known as a pitchman, huckster or high-class peddler whose simple requirement is a crowd. He deals in gewgaws, trinkets, gadgets and shiny junk of one sort or another. He is the modern counterpart of the old-time medicine man who used to go about the country selling snake oil and other fabulous cures. The late W. C. Fields gave us the best delineation of the species.

Only the strictest civic laws rudely enforced by the police protect our cities, parks and crowded thoroughfares from the activities of pitchmen. The managers of fairs and exhibitions have to be extremely alert to prevent the entire show being swamped by all manner of petty hucksters. And many a good show, even so, is badly marred by too many of the brethren being allowed a pitch, despite the sternest limitations set upon them. Of course a fair wouldn't be a fair without a few of them.

It is when you travel far and wide along the tourist routes in the United States that the problem of the pitchmen show up most acutely. In the States they have democracy and everybody admits the right of every man to make an honest living. But no sooner is a noble building erected than the whole area around it is suddenly abloom with the weirdest collection of flimsy shops and stalls with garish banners advertising bargains, sales, sensational values. No sooner is a magnificent new general store opened than the whole block goes wild with junk shops. When a handsome new hotel, responding to the rising tourist demand, builds and landscapes itself into a dream of beauty, it is instantly set upon by limpets in the shape of shoddy tourist courts and ill-smelling hamburger joints, souvenir shacks and other monstrosities that crowd in as close as is possible, spoiling the whole affect of beauty and charm which the hotel spent heavy money in attempting to achieve.

The right of a man to make an honest living does not surely apply only to the little, tricky, frowsy opportunist. How about the honest living of the people who conceived the big hotel?

How Old Is Old?

A CATCH phrase which is sometimes heard in aviation is the one about all aircraft being obsolete before they leave the drawing board. But armchair critics who are fond of using it might well pause for a moment to study the case-history of the D.H. 82A Tiger Moth, which celebrates its 21st birthday this month.

About 7,000 Tiger Moths were built, and there are today some 160 still on the Register of British Civil Aircraft (mostly belonging to flying clubs) plus many hundreds more in service across the world. And the Moth has many years in front of it yet.

Its history shows that what began as a basic training aircraft has since been used, because of the fine versatility of the design, for a number of other roles. And though in many ways conditions have changed so much since its conception, there are other ways, and other places, in which it can operate in circumstances which still demand an aircraft with the Tiger Moth's particular qualities.

By 1939, some eight years after it was designed as a trainer, the Moth was called into active service, when, loaded with 25-lb. bombs, it was used for anti-submarine patrols over the North Sea.

It has another claim to fame in that in 1937 as the Queen Bee, it showed the possibilities of pilotless flight by being in effect the forerunner of the first guided missile. Subsequently it was widely used by the navy as a pilotless target aircraft.

The lesson of the Moth's career therefore is this: that a good aircraft can be called into service over a period of years and be relied on to do a good job. This is not to say that ideally there may not be newer designs better suited to the work, but whether it is called obsolete or not, the older design can and will meet the situation in spite of the names it is called.

The Tiger Moth is by no means unique in having lived long and well. Other aircraft which started in one role carry on in others. And however fast aviation develops, good designs will always find, somewhere in the world, the niche for which they were built, or they will carve themselves out another.

The secret of this longevity lies not only in good design of airframe and engine, but also in the continued airworthiness which comes from a confirmed British background of after-sales service and maintenance. This applies both to civil and military types. Aircraft, like other machines, can wear out if they are allowed to do so. But if they are designed so that their component parts can be easily inspected, and, where necessary, replaced, the aircraft will not become old at all, in the usual sense of the word.

Socreds Termed Menace No. 1

Social Credit is "public menace No. 1," according to Deane Finlayson provincial Progressive Conservative leader, addressing a meeting of the executive of the Victoria federal association last night.

"The government is already beginning to show itself as inconsistent and dictatorial in its attitude towards the public," he said.

Public opinion is beginning to fall away from the Social Credit party Mr. Finlayson said. "Never before has the Progressive Conservative party such an opportunity to present a program of level headed democratic government."

"The Conservative party is as far distant from Social Credit as it is from Communism," he said.

J. A. A. George, recently nominated candidate for the Victoria seat in parliament, spoke briefly and the appointment of M. L. T. Drake as his campaign manager was approved.

Liberal Milk Decontrol Lobby Revealed unfair tactics to get up and read a few charges," he declared, in one of the few angry speeches he has made this session. "Of course there were telegrams; scores of them; long distance and local telephone calls; the Island dairymen were up in arms and still are . . ."

He said all communications, for and against the milk board [illegible] the Liberal cabinet.

"The cabinet decided there was such a furore about this business that we ought to hear the whole case," he said. The cabinet had devoted two mornings last spring to hearings on the subject.

Mr Straith denounced the Socred presentation of the case as an "awful misrepresentation."

"This is a distortion of the truth to quote a few embarrassing telegrams. Neither your government nor any other government can tell a man how to word his telegram," said Mr Straith.

[illegible] decontrol plan as a political order."

Decontrol had been scheduled for May 1 when "this government was going to call an election May 6, so there would be a quick drop in prices before the election, before the market could re-establish itself," he said.

He asked if Mr Kiernan had changed the date of decontrol. "Will it still be May 1," he asked, "or has it been changed? Will it now be six days before an election is held?"

"I would refer the honorable member to the milk board on [illegible] nan.

"Another distortion of the truth,' replied Mr. Straith. "The milk board hasn't the final control and you know that. The order had to be confirmed by order-in-council. Answer the question."

"The honorable member seems to be unduly disturbed," said Mr Kiernan. "It's a question of when all the necessary details can be worked out . . ."

"Oh, yea!" interjected Mr Straith.

". . . and presented to the distributors and the producers so if they have any comments they can make them before the order goes into effect," Mr Kiernan continued.

"In other words he's withdrawing his original statement that decontrol would come May 1," said Mr Straith. "They're just reneging and putting a lot of conditions on it."

"I would point out that the member is imputing motives," warned Mr Kiernan.

Hawks To Sub On Puck Tour

MONTREAL (CP) Plans for a series of exhibition hockey games between Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks in England and on the continent are nearing completion, a spokesman for the Canadien club said Wednesday.

The original plan was for the series to be between Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings but the Detroit club couldn't make arrangements and the Black Hawks took over.

Pending completion of final arrangements, the Hawks and Canadiens will leave Montreal April 24 and return around the first of June.

In addition to games in England and Paris, the teams may play in Germany, Italy and Switzerland and possible other countries.

House Votes To Keep Education Report Secret

A motion calling for the tabling in the legislature of a report of a special committee of deputy ministers on educational finance was defeated by a 24-21 vote yesterday.

But the defeat came only after Social Credit members mistakenly voted in favor of the motion.

The motion was proposed by Harold Winch, leader of the CCF opposition.

Mr. Winch had insisted that the report should be tabled so the members of the House would have a complete understanding of all the government's investigation into school finance.

(The special committee of deputies was set up by the last government during the last session of the legislature. Its report has never been made public, although it is understood to conflict with the recommendations of the present government, which centre on the Rolston formula.)

Social Credit Finance Minister Einar Gooderson refused to file the deputies' report with the House.

Reports of this nature are regarded as confidential, he said. "Therefore, a return of this sort is refused as not being in the public interest."

W. T. Straith, former education minister, speaking for the six-man Liberal group in the House, said he and his colleagues held similar views.

"It would give us considerable delight to have this report tabled, because it would be embarrassing to the government," he said. "But we intend to be consistent." He said the Liberals would oppose the motion.

When the question came to a vote, Premier W. A. C. Bennett did not give his customary warning that the vote would be taken as a motion of confidence or want of confidence in the government.

But when the Speaker put the question, most of the Social Credit members voted in favor of the motion—which would have meant tabling the report in spite of government objections.

Premier Bennett immediately called for a recorded division—a stand-up and be counted vote.

When the division was called, the 18 Socreds voted against the motion. They were joined by the six Liberals.

Mr. Winch's 18 CCFers, the two Conservatives and one Laborite in the House voted in favor of the motion.

It was the fourth recorded division of the five-week-old session.

B.C. is spending far less on [illegible] Canadian provinces, Frank Snowsell (CCF, Saanich) stated yesterday in the legislature.

Mr. Snowsell and Robert Strachan (CCF, Cowichan-Newcastle) noted that the government had allocated only $1,177,000 or .08 per cent of its budget for the coming year to agriculture.

"Agriculture is worth more than that to B.C.," said Mr. Strachan.

Mr. Snowsell told the House that agriculture accounts for 3½ per cent of the Alberta budget, 4.6 per cent of the Saskatchewan budget and 4½ per cent of the Ontario budget.

The two Island members urged the government to consider some form of assistance for farmers in their ridings who desire to establish irrigation systems.

Mr. Snowsell came to the defense of Saanich loganberry growers who fear the government proposes to permit importation of California wines into the province.

The member said the Saanich loganberry industry would be hard hit by such a move. He explained that loganberries are perishable and cannot be shipped to distant markets as fresh fruit.

The old question of a Hansard record of proceedings in the legislature is going to reach [illegible] this year.

Randolph Harding (CCF, Kaslo-Slocan) has prepared a resolution calling on the government to institute a system of verbatim reporting of House debates.

Rae Eddie (CCF, New Westminster) will present a resolution to the House calling on the government to implement recommendations contained in the report of the hospital insurance inquiry board.

* * *

Frank Snowsell (CCF, Saanich), urging passage of his resolution calling for establishment of a department of co-operatives in the [illegible] such a step would "help the people of B.C. to help themselves."

The member stated in his resolution that "co-operatives exemplify the finest application of the principles of democracy in the economic field" and constitute "an alternative to the growth of private monopolies."

Metropolitan's 85th Annual Report to Policyholders

MORE BENEFITS FOR MORE PEOPLE

More benefits for more people than ever before! This keynotes the service of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. In 1952, payments to policyholders and beneficiaries reached a new high—$945,000,000.

The daily transactions of Metropolitan are intimately interwoven with the hopes and aspirations of men and women throughout the United States and Canada. Behind the annual accounting lies the story of families helped toward security, of widows cared for, and children educated.

These human objectives far transcend the procession of cold figures across the pages of account books. Yet the figures reflect the planning by policyholders to help assure the fulfilment of their ambitions.

At the end of 1952, policyholders were protected by $51,900,000,000 of Metropolitan Life insurance—a new high record. Old and new policyholders increased their insurance protection by buying $3,600,000,000 of new Life insurance.

New long-term investments in 1952 totalled $1,600,000,000. The major part of these funds went to help meet the needs of commerce and industry. In many instances, Metropolitan financed the expenditures necessary to bring to the public the benefits of technological progress in such fields as chemistry and electronics.

Some $369,000,000 was invested in city and farm mortgage loans in 1952. Part of these funds helped finance 30,000 new homes, and they brought the total outstanding home loans of the Company to 197,000 at the year's close.

The net rate of interest earned on Metropolitan's total investments after deducting investment expenses was 3.21% in comparison with 3.07% in 1951. However, the United States Federal income tax reduced the net investment return for 1952 to 3.00%. On new long-term investments made last year, the net interest rate, after all investment expenses but before the United States Federal income tax, was 3.73%—the highest since 1934.

Other high lights in Annual Report:

1. The number of policyholders increased to 33,700,000—a new record.

2. Accident and Health protection continued to grow in public favour, and this was particularly true of the new forms of protection provided by hospital, surgical, and medical expense policies. At the end of the year about 6,200,000 persons were protected by Accident and Health coverage under Metropolitan Group and individual policies.

3. The mortality rate among Metropolitan's policyholders continued to be favourable. Death rates from many causes—particularly tuberculosis and most of the common childhood diseases—reached all-time lows.

4. In common with the experience of business generally, Metropolitan's expenses increased somewhat last year. A continuing effort is made to keep them at a low level consistent with proper service to policyholders.

5. Dividends to policyholders in 1952 amounted to $192,000,000—the largest sum in the Company's history.

Metropolitan's Report to Policyholders for 1952 would not be complete without appreciative reference to the loyal and capable Metropolitan men and women who made possible the efficient and progressive service which our policyholders quite properly expect.

Additional details of the Metropolitan's service last year are given in the Company's Annual Report, copies of which may be obtained on request.

METROPOLITAN OPERATIONS IN CANADA

These high lights of the Company's business in Canada during 1952, our 80th year in this country, will be of particular interest to Metropolitan's Canadian policyholders and their beneficiaries.

Payments to Policyholders and Beneficiaries

Metropolitan paid in 1952 to its Canadian policyholders and their beneficiaries $45,499,950 in death claims—matured policies—accident and health and disability benefits—dividends and other payments. Of this amount, 68% was paid to living policyholders.

The total amount the Metropolitan has paid to Canadians since it entered Canada in 1872, plus the amount now invested in Canada, exceeds the total premiums received from Canadians by more than $416,000,000.

Life Insurance in Force

In 1952 Canadians bought $253,039,328 of new Life insurance protection in the Metropolitan, and at the year's end the Company was serving 2,510,000 Life insurance policyholders in Canada insured for $2,821,691,811. Of this amount, 56% was Ordinary business, 27% was Industrial and 17% was Group.

Total Investments in Canada

Metropolitan investments in Canada amounted to $617,598,599 at the end of 1952. These investments are playing an important part in the economy of Canada with substantial totals of Federal, Provincial and Municipal bonds and with sizeable totals in the obligations of steel and paper companies, the oil industry, railroads, electric light and power companies and others.

Health and Welfare Work

Since 1909 Metropolitan has conducted a continuous health education campaign in Canada and during 1952 participated in numerous activities. More than 2,200,000 pamphlets on a variety of health and safety topics were distributed—monthly health advertisements appeared in national publications—"Good Hints for Good Health" was a daily feature on many radio stations.

Industrials Make Gains In Last Hour

TORONTO (CP)—Industrials jumped sharply in the last hour [illegible] a generally firm market.

New Brunswick base metal prospects gained at the close, led by a $2.25 gain in Brunswick. Among uraniums Gunnar, Chimo, New Delhi, Rix and Nesbitt Labine traded lower.

Papers, foods, liquors and miscellaneous issues were strong in industrials. Empire Brass pfd., Ford A and McColl pfd. added $1 or more. Interprovincial Pipe Lines added $1.25 in a turnover of 27,000 shares.

Senior golds were mixed while juniors traded lower on losses in Broulan Reef, Hard Rock and Con. Discovery.

Higher-priced base metals weakened after a firm session but strength in a few other issues buoyed the list. Silver Miller, Barvue, Coldstream and East Sullivan gained.

Western oils were mixed as Pacific, Gridoil and Pipe Line Products gained while National, Britalta, Cal and Ed and Central Explorers slipped.

Montreal Mixed

MONTREAL—Dominion Tar, Price Brothers, Walker, BA Oil and Royal Bank rose.

Acquiring minus signs were Canadian Celanese, BC Forest, Canadian Breweries, Hudson Bay Mining and Provincial Transport.

Mines reflected the trendless industrial section in active dealings. Eastern Metals, up 29 cents, Iso, Bonville and New Larder were stronger. Inspiration fell 35 cents, leading East Rim, Rix Athabasca and Gunnar down.

Indian Mines Gain

VANCOUVER—Prices lagged in all sections although changes were generally small.

Among the exceptions in the mining section was Indian Mines, which added 3 cents to close at 12 cents. Quatsino Copper weakened to 40 cents and Pacific Nickel to 1.01. Western Tungsten dropped to 2.90 and then recovered to 3.20.

Powell River was weak in the industrial section at $22 and Canadian Western Lumber was below its best of the day to close at 9⅞.

Oils were neglected.

New York Bullish

NEW YORK (CP)—Braced by a continued flow of fine corporate reports, the stock market turned in one of the best performances of the year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 90 cents and closed at 114.90. The gain is the best since last Nov. 24. The industrial component of the average gained 1.10, railroads gained 90 and utilities gained 20.

There were 650 gainers in the list of 1,181 individual issues appearing on the tape and 233 losers. New 1952-53 highs came to 78 and new lows to 6.

High Hopes Felt for Prairie Uranium

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

A forecast that within a few years the output of uranium from Saskatchewan may equal or exceed that of the Belgian Congo, the world's largest producer at the present time, was made yesterday by Saskatchewan's minister of natural resources, J. H. Brockelbank.

Mr Brockelbank was addressing [illegible] Association in Toronto. He told them of the large developments which are taking place around the government-controlled Eldorado Mining and Refining Company in the Athabasca Beaverlodge area in the northwest corner of the province.

It is estimated that more than 400 companies are either operating or are preparing to operate in this area.

However, Mr Brockelbank said that this did not exhaust the uranium possibilities of his province. He disclosed that great activity was going on after a uranium strike in the Foster Lake area. This is considerably south of the Athabasca find.

He also expected more millions of dollars would be poured this year into further development of the Lake La Ronde area, still further south and east of Foster Lakes.

So far the greatest encouragement, apart from the Eldorado Company, has been from the Gunnar Gold drilling on their property in the southwestern corner of the hot Beaverlodge area, known as Crackingstone Point, and St. Mary's Channel areas.

Other companies in this area are Chimo, Nesbitt Labine, Iso-Uranium, Rix Athabaska and Milliken Lake.

The strength of uranium shares over the past two months has been the outstanding feature of a remarkable period in which new Canadian mining discoveries and developments have been made.

QUARTZ CRYSTALS FOUND

An unusual mining operation is being developed at Seeley's Bay, Ont., by a company which has discovered some deposits of quartz crystals.

These are used electronically for frequency control in radar, television, radio telephones, communication instruments and many other purposes.

The only major production of quartz crystals in the western hemisphere is in Brazil, but the Canadian company intends to expand its present limited operations at Seeley's Bay and so cater to the ever-growing demands. No details of the grade of the Seeley's Bay deposits are given, but they are described by the president of the company, E. A. Heustis, as good.

[illegible] between $10 and $40 a pound according to grade.

NEW TYPE FREEZER

A Victoria business man, William A. Colquhoun, has become managing director for Canada of a new type deep-freeze locker which obviates the necessity of users having to enter sub-zero temperatures to obtain their foods.

The Arctic Circle Warm Room Lockers, as they are known, were invented by a Seattle man, M. W. Piggott. The lockers are built into a large cylinder which contains a number of revolving bays. The locker-holder presses a number of buttons and mechanism revolves the required locker to a door where it can be opened in the normal store atmosphere. Each cylinder contains 96 lockers.

"We feel it is going to be popular with people who do not like to have to go into extremely cold temperatures for their food," said Mr Colquhoun. "It is also convenient because it can be installed in comparatively small space in stores."

Mr Colquhoun took over the Canadian rights last November and already the machines are being manufactured in Vancouver.

The first of the new lockers is due to be opened on Vancouver Island next week at Black Creek. Other installations are being made at Campbell River, Union Bay and Ladysmith.

The lockers cost only slightly more than the normal deep-freeze.

APPOINTMENT

The appointment as a member of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce staff of C. R. Porter was announced yesterday by George I. Warren, managing secretary.

Mr. Porter will handle the affairs of the tourist trade and retail merchants groups and will act as assistant to Hector Crombie.

Before coming to Victoria, Mr. Porter was manager of the Sunny Brae Dairy in Duncan, and was also president of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce.

Record Tamblyn Sales

Under record retail sales of $8,956,699, G. Tamblyn Limited for [illegible] reports net earnings of $268,145, or $2.22 per common share, compared with $313,288, or $2.62 a share, in 1951, when sales totaled $8,309,832. The 1952 profits are after all charges including income taxes of $338,759, which are equal to $3.02 per common share, as against $2.61 a share in 1951.

Saskatchewan Drilling Planned

Canadian Devonian Petroleums Ltd. is now established as a producing oil company, according to the annual report.

Northern Plains Petroleum Co., a wholly owned subsidiary, has two producing wells in Creek County, Okla., and is test drilling in other parts of the state. Further testing is being considered in Michigan.

The report states that Canadian Devonian is planning to drill during the coming summer in the Gull Lake area in southwestern Saskatchewan. Two successful wells are located within four miles of this area.

Negotiations are in progress for drilling in co-operation with other companies on 98,400 acres near Estevan.

Low U.S. Dollar Hits Abitibi

TORONTO (CP) — Abitibi Power and Paper Co. Ltd. had net profit in 1952 of $9,097,759, or $2.02 a share, compared with $12,997,887, or $3.07 a share, in 1951.

The annual report says that as a substantial part of the company's production is sold in the United States, the decline in value of the U.S. dollar in relation to the Canadian dollar seriously affected earnings.

Net sales were $107,381,890, a decrease of $4,146,318. Newsprint production reached a record 726,840 tons, but sales of other products were lower. Total production of all products was down slightly at 917,442 tons, compared with 935,333 tons.

Oil Reserves Big Increase

EDMONTON (BUP) — Reserves of crude oil and liquid petroleums increased in Western Canada by more than 356,000,000 barrels during 1952, according to estimates of the Canadian Petroleum Association's committee on crude oil reserves.

Estimated reserves of 1,741,883,000 barrels in Alberta, Saskatchewan and the Northwest Territories up to December 31, 1952, set an all-time high record for Canada.

The estimates of the committee say that discoveries of new fields and pools brought 317,431,000 barrels of proved reserve while extensions and revisions in 1952 accounted for an additional 100,623,000 barrels.

London Stock Prices

LONDON (Reuters) — The stock exchange was quiet today. Although prices tended to drift lower in all sections there was no real selling pressure.

Government securities recorded widespread fractional declines. Some small offering of more speculative issues imparted a dull appearance to the industrial market.

Among foreign bonds, Germans were steady after early dullness and there was some small offering of Japanese.

Oils turned irregularly higher with Anglo-Iranian a dull spot.

LONDON (AP) — Stock closings: [illegible]

Montreal Bonds

MONTREAL (CP) — Trading was quiet today on Montreal bond markets.

Long term Government of Canadas were slightly easier with the remainder of the market firm. On the corporate side, interest was shown in the new Eatons and Simpsons-Sears. Prices were unchanged. Convertibles traded firm.

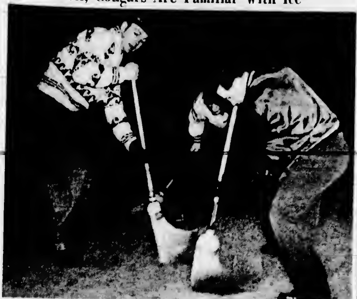
Well, Cougars Are Familiar With Ice



Victoria curling passed its severest test yesterday when rink composed of sportscasters and sports writers met team from Victoria Cougars in challenge match at new curling rink. Though no official score was available, it is reported that Cougars came out on top but both rinks are still claiming victory. Sweeping vigorously are Cougars Ivan Irwin (left) and Doug Anderson (right) while Colin Kilburn follows up shot by Don Webster. Opposing rink was composed of sportscasters Ted Reynolds and Bill Stephenson and sports editors Bill Walker of The Daily Times and Jim Tang of the Colonist.

Tars Unable To Stop Merchants' Attack; Drop First Game, 6-3

BY BRIAN O'CONNELL

Power-laden Victoria Merchants, held in check for two [illegible] Navy crew, erupted in the third frame to take a 6-3 decision in the first game of the Commercial Hockey League's final playoff series.

Playing before an estimated 1,400 at Memorial Arena, the Merchants displayed the same drive and scoring punch which carried them to the league championship and through the semi-final playoffs with Army.

But though the Dealers fully deserved the win they were forced to earn it. Navy put up a stubborn battle during the first two frames but could not keep up with Merchants' obvious superiority in the final.

GREAT HOCKEY

The first period, featured by end-to-end play and smart passing plays, produced some of the best hockey seen in the league this season.

It was during this period that Sailors showed the best. They twice took the lead only to have Merchants come storming back. Ted Audette put Navy in front at the 43-second mark when he fired home a long screened shot with Merchants' Ah Wiebe in the penalty box and Martin Fraser later put them ahead 2-1 on a pass from Doug Johnston after Merchants had pulled even. But this lead was also short lived.

TOP LINE STOPPED

Merchants' top line of Toby Brown-Norm LaCree-Ron Bremner tied the score both times in the first period with Brown, the league's individual scoring champion, on the firing end both times. He scored the first on a smart play with Wiebe and Bremner and the second from LaCree. At that time it looked like the line would have another wild night but it was kept scoreless in the final two frames.

Ed Taylor put Merchants ahead for the first time at 2:55 of the second period, the only goal of the middle session. It was a fluke goal. Taylor's passout from behind the net hit Stu Christensen's leg and bounced into the net.

JONES BRILLIANT

Navy goalie Norm Jones turned in a sound game but he couldn't stop all the rubber slapped at him in the third period.

Wiebe scored unassisted at two minutes and again on a pass from Fred McColl at six minutes. Rudy Pischo made it 6-2 at 9:03 when he banged [illegible] 18:28 Orville Couler got Sailors' final tally.

The game produced rugged hockey throughout but, remarkably, there were only four penalties, two to each club, and no fights, although Taylor and an ardent Navy fan had harsh words in the third period.

Second game in the best-of-seven series will be played at the arena next Monday starting at 8:30 p.m. Victoria Juniors and the Mainland Juniors will meet in the second game of a two-game total-goal series for the Coast title in the preliminary starting at 7 p.m.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Navy, Audette :43; 2, Merchants, Brown (Wiebe, Bremner) 10:12; 3, Navy, Fraser (Johnson) 14:41; 4, Merchants, Brown (LaCree) 18:56. Penalties: Wiebe :32, Johnson 3:42, Christensen 10:44.

Second period—5, Merchants, Taylor 2:55. Penalty: Arnold 4:31.

Third period—6, Merchants, Wiebe 2:00; 7, Merchants, Wiebe (McColl) 6:00; 8, Merchants, Pischo (Wood, Taylor) 9:03; 9, Navy, Couler (McKay) 18:28.

Report Kramer, Sedgman Feud On Proposed Australian Trip

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The professional tennis tour shows signs of cracking wide open into a personal feud between the featured performers, Jack Kramer and Frank Sedgman, Johnny Janes, sports editor of the San Antonio Evening News, said Wednesday in his "Don't Quote Me" column.

Quoting a New Orleans source, Janes wrote that Kramer and Sedgman, the Australian who held the world amateur title until he joined the professionals in December, are at the breaking point because of Kramer's refusal to take the tour to Australia.

Kramer, Janes said, explained at New Orleans that traveling expenses and high taxes in the down under land made such a venture impractical, and added:

"Are you sure you want your fans to see me beat you?"

Sedgman was reported as answering:

"They wouldn't see you beat me there, because you know you wouldn't stand a chance on our grass courts."

Kramer was said to have answered that "if you beat me on the American tour I'll consider going to Australia."

Kramer now leads in matches, 28 to 19, after Tuesday's victory at Houston.

At Houston, Kramer said he and Sedgman have discussed a proposed Australian tour "but never in an arguing manner."

"We haven't had any arguments," he said. "We've had a very clean tour."

Kramer said he understands two or three promoters have proposed trips to Australia but that no one has approached him about the matter.

HOLDS CONTRACTS

He agreed Australian financial arrangements might be a problem but added:

"If they want to have us down there it will be on a sound tennis and financial basis. The Australia issue is squarely in my hands. I hold the contracts. I'd just as soon play there if arrangements are fair and equitable."

"It is too far in advance to worry about it now."

He explained that he has suggested that the current tour, which ends May 31, be followed by a rest and a Canadian tour. He said other members of the troupe have indicated approval.

"After that, I've been thinking tentatively in terms of South Africa, New Zealand and Australia," he said.

Howe Scores No. 47; Wings Stop Rangers

HOW THEY STAND

	G	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Detroit	64	36	13	15	200	127	87
Montreal	64	27	20	17	146	135	71

Toronto	64	23	28	13	136	138	59
New York	65	17	33	15	147	207	49

Next games tonight: Montreal at Chicago, Detroit at Boston.

Gordie Howe scored his 47th goal of the season last night as Detroit Red Wings blanked New York Rangers, 2-0, in a National Hockey League game before a slim Madison Square Garden crowd of 5,280.

It leaves Howe only three goals behind the all-time NHL record set by Montreal's Maurice Richard during the 1944-45 season and he has six games left in which to surpass the mark.

The goal was only the second Howe has scored against the checking of Rangers' Ed Kullman this season and it came at 13:04 of the second period while the Red Wings enjoyed a man advantage.

ENDS FAMINE

Bob Goldham scored the winning tally 10 minutes earlier on a pass from Ted Lindsay for his first NHL goal since February, 1951.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk came up with a brilliant performance, including many sensational saves among his 24 stops, as he handed Rangers their first whitewashing on home ice and recorded his eighth shutout of the season.

It was the eighth straight victory for the Wings, who had already clinched their fifth straight league title.

Washington Now Second In Hoop Poll

Washington Huskies polled six first-place votes and 370 points to take second place in the final Associated Press basketball poll before the National Invitation and National Collegiate Athletic Association tournaments.

The final poll will be released March 22 after the tournaments are completed.

Huskies' resounding triumphs over California in the Pacific Coast Conference final boosted them within 22 points of leading Indiana which polled 11 first-place votes and 392 points.

LaSalle also received 11 first-place votes but polled only 351 points for third place while Seton Hall slipped to fourth with two first-place votes and 237 points.

Balance of the top 10, with first-place votes in brackets, follow: 5, Kansas (4) 216; 6, Oklahoma A & M (4) 187; 7, LSU (1) 166; 8, Kansas State (1) 154; 9, Western Kentucky (1) 141; 10, Oklahoma City (5) 106.

Seattle University shares 14th place with Louisville with 45 points each.

Mosconi Cops Cue Laurels

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Defending champion Willie Mosconi clinched the world pocket billiard title for the fourth time in a row and the 11th time in the last 12 years Wednesday when he defeated Luther Lassiter of Elizabeth City, N.C., 150-33 in two innings.

It was his seventh win of the tournament without defeat.

The cue wizard also equaled his own world record for short games by closing out the match in two frames. He accomplished the same feat in 1950 and in last year's tournament defeated George Chenier of Canada 150-2 in the same number of frames.

Moore Gains Easy Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore battered Nino Valdes for an unanimous decision Wednesday in their 10-round nationally televised bout at the St. Louis Arena. Moore weighed 180, while Valdes, a big but agile Cuban heavyweight, scaled 209½.

There were no knockdowns although Moore obviously was out for the big punch as he came up with a rush in the late stages after wearing down the big Valdes.

Judge Gene Farrell scored it 57-43 for Moore. Judge Al Graff gave it to the light-heavy champ 54-46 and referee Ray Palmer saw it 53-47 for Archie.

Varsity Grads Manitoba Hoop Champs

WINNIPEG (CP) — Varsity Grads retained their Manitoba senior men's basketball championship and the Crowe Trophy Wednesday by defeating Winnipeg Paulins 76-73 in the deciding game of their best-of-five final.

Grads, who won the Western title last year, will open their best-of-three Western semi-final in Alberta April 2.

Roy Williams was top point-getter with 28. Carl Ridd with 17 and George Oelkers with 15 made up the bulk of the remaining Varsity points.

Doug Graham bagged 25 points for Paulins followed by John Brown and Roy Burkett each with 13 and Ross Turner with 12.

Harper, Woodley To Meet In Final of Curling Event

DUNCAN—Ron Harper and D. Woodley, both of Duncan, will meet Thursday in the final of the C. C. Wright event of the first annual bonspiel of the Cowichan Curling Club.

Harper defeated Roy Shepperd of Duncan and Woodley trimmed Red Dunn of Nanaimo in the semi-finals here Wednesday.

J. Stephens of Seattle advanced to the final in the Cushanagh-Riverside Trophy event by defeating Tony Folk of Duncan. Stephens had eliminated Cunnings of Duncan and Folk had disposed of Larry Marshall of Duncan in the quarter-finals.

Other quarter-final games saw E. Coster of Duncan defeat Petursson of Victoria and Ken Berkley of Duncan trim L. Koski of Nipawin, Saskatchewan.

Musgrave of McCreery, Manitoba, advanced to the final in the J. A. Wadsworth event, defeating Woodley in the semi-finals. Marshall advanced to the round of four by ousting Ed Price of Alberni.

Shepperd defeated Coster to go into the quarter-finals of the Cowichan Curling Club event.

Prior Stops Bevos, 3-2; Clardy Hits

Two players owned by the Victoria Tyees shared the limelight at Glendale yesterday as the "Rookies" beat the "Regulars" in an inter-squad game at the training camp of the Portland Beavers.

Victoria's own Bill Prior, who has been making a favorable impression in his effort to win a place on the Coast League team, improved his chances by pitching tight baseball and registered a 3-2 victory.

Joe Clardy, recently purchased from Las Vegas and expected to hold down first base for the Tyees—unless he should win a chance with the Beavers—hit a triple and single to lead the attack for the "Rookies."

At Palm Springs, a second WIL graduate, Gordie Brunswick, paced Seattle Rainiers to a 12-9 victory over San Francisco Seals with two home runs.

VICTORIA	66	20	39	7	236	285	47

Next game tonight: Saskatoon at Calgary.

Things got a bit tougher last night for Victoria Cougars, still hanging on to a mathematical hope of getting into the Western Hockey League playdowns.

Edmonton Flyers, who helped their cause Tuesday by besting Vancouver, went down at New Westminster as the Royals moved into fourth spot, only two points behind the third-place Canucks and three behind the runner-up Calgary Stampeders.

TOUGH CHORE

The result really put matters up to the Cougars. If they win all their remaining games Royals need only two points in three games to best them. Edmonton would need four points in six games and Tacoma five in six. One Cougar loss would reduce each of those totals by two points and two setbacks would eliminate the Islanders unless Tacoma lost all their remaining games and Seattle failed to get more than three points.

About the only thing that favors the Cougars is that playoff positions will be decided on the basis of most victories if there is a tie for sixth place. They have played fewer draw games than any club.

COSTLY WIN

Victory, however, was costly for the Royals. Already minus Ollie Dorohoy, reputedly out for the season with chest injuries, they pressed injured Ken Ullyot into service. The veteran centre suffered a shoulder separation in the first period when checked heavily by Bill Folk and is out for the balance of the season.

Royals were never behind as they took 3-2 and 4-3 leads in the first two periods and then made it safe with two late goals after Flyers had made it 5-4 with just over 10 minutes left.

Jackie Hamilton, pudgy centre veteran, came to life to spark the winners with three first-period goals and from there playing coach Max McNab and little Blinky Boyce took care of the scoring, each getting a pair of goals. Bob Love, another veteran who has been below old-time form, chipped in with four assists.

Earl Reibel scored once and helped on another goal to take the scoring lead from his injured teammate, Vic Stasiuk. Reibel now has 81 points, one more than Stasiuk and three more than Alex Kaleta, the only player with a reasonable chance of overtaking the youthful Edmontonian.

First Period—1, New Westminster, Hamilton (Love) 15; 2, Edmonton, Haley 4:16; 3, New Westminster, Hamilton (Love) 6:36; 4, Edmonton, Pele (Wilson, Polk) 10:11; 5, New Westminster, Hamilton (Robert, Love) 14:18. Penalty: Durham 0:43.

Second Period—6, Edmonton, Poile (Pele, Reibel) 2:50; 7, New Westminster, Boyce (Robert) 13:17. Penalties: None.

Third Period—8, New Westminster, McNab (Pashoway) 1:10; 9, Edmonton, Reibel (Pleau, Zeidel) 5:48; 10, New Westminster, McNab 11:09; 11, New Westminster, Boyce (Love, Robert) 14:27. Penalties: None.

Release Dates Of Dominion Hoop Playoffs

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Dominion men's senior basketball final series will start at the home of the Western Canada champions April 16, Bert Jones of Winnipeg, president of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, announced Tuesday.

The men's junior championship series will be played in Eastern Canada starting the same date.

In the senior series the Manitoba winners will meet the Alberta winners in a best-of-three games western semi-final to be played in Alberta April 2, 3 and 4.

British Columbia will meet the winner in the final best-of-five series April 6, 7, 8, 10 and 11 in British Columbia. The dates for the senior and junior Dominion finals are April 16, 17, 18, 20 and 21.

In junior men's competitions the British Columbia winners will play a best-of-three series at Alberta April 2, 3 and 4 and the winner will play a best-of-five western final in Manitoba April 6, 7, 8, 10 and 11. The winner travels to the best-of-five final in the East.

She Has a Problem! 25,000 Men Needed

DETROIT (CP)—Councilwoman Mary Beck says she's having difficulty rounding up 25,000 men to escort competitors in the Women's International Bowling Congress scheduled for here this spring.

An ardent bowler, Miss Beck said she made the promise when she went to Seattle last year to persuade the congress to hold its tournaments here.

"I had no experience winning a convention for a city. Other cities came well supplied with money, entertainment, gifts and promises and all I had was an invitation."

Miss Beck was last to make her bid. She threw away her prepared speech, jumped up and promised a male escort for every woman attending the congress.

"That brought the house down and they voted to come to Detroit for the first time in 25 years.

"I was just kidding but now I realize there are 5,000 teams of five women each coming here beginning April 8 and that means 25,000 women who expect escorts."

Only solution to the problem she said was to get Mayor Albert Cobo out of town during the tournament.

"Then I would be acting mayor and I could call out the police and fire departments."

Eilers Meet King Realty For B.C. Title

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eilers won the Vancouver inter-city senior "A" women's basketball championship Wednesday night by downing Kitsilano Community Centre 58-15.

Eilers took the best-of-five series three games to two. They will meet Victoria in a best-of-three series for the British Columbia championship. Games will be played in Vancouver Friday, Saturday and, if necessary, Monday.

High scorer for Eilers was Joan Mitchell with 13 points. Nora McDermott followed with 11. Mearnie Summers of Kitsilano topped all scorers with 20 points.

Collegians Win, Eaglettes Lose Island Titles

St. Louis College overcame a 15-point deficit to win the Vancouver Island juvenile boys' basketball crown at Victoria High School last night.

Earlier, Eaglettes defeated Cumberland Jets, 29-25, but dropped the Island juvenile girls' series to the up-Island squad by nine points.

Collegians dropped the first game of their series, 52-37, at Alberni but won last night, 47-30, to take the total-point series, 84-82. The Students played a pressing game and reduced the deficit to six points at the half-time breather and deadlocked the series with six minutes left.

Kieran O'Neill scored the winning basket and Ron Martin pushed up 17 points to take scoring honors.

Cumberland won the first game of the girls' series, 36-23, on its home floor and took the series, 62-54.

Eaglettes had a decided margin in play last night but a weak performance from the free-throw strip prevented them from making the series outcome much closer.

Pat Lisle of Eaglettes took scoring honors with 13 points while Trudy Mounce led Cumberland with 12.

Line-ups follow:

Cumberland—Patterson 6, Mounce 12, Gray 4, Pickett 1, Pretone, Mason, Dalsanto, Westfield, Tait, Wain. Total 25.

Eaglettes—Ross 1, Sinclair 3, Beaty, Mitchell 6, Jones 3, Jones 3, Johnson, Lisle 13. Total 29.

WIFU Bans Poaching Of Jun'or Prospects

EDMONTON (CP) — The Western Interprovincial Football Union has a no-tampering agreement giving its clubs first call on junior prospects in their own territory.

The ruling, reached at the WIFU annual meeting in Regina in January, was disclosed by Edmonton Eskimo president Ken Montgomery at a Wednesday gathering of press and club [illegible]

Montgomery said the no tampering rule applies until July 10, after which clubs may go into another team's territory and pluck unclaimed prospects.

The agreement gives Winnipeg Blue Bombers first call on Manitoba players while Saskatchewan Roughriders have first pick of players in their region, including Saskatoon Hilltops. The territorial line between Edmonton and Calgary Stampeders is roughly through Red Deer, about midway between the two [illegible]

OPEN TERRITORY

This season the Vancouver area will be open to all four prairie clubs. But when Vancouver actively enters the WIFU in 1954, players in that area will be reserved until July 10 to the coast club.

Montgomery also reported that a full exchange of east and west clubs for pre-season exhibition tilts was agreed upon in principle at a joint meeting of the WIFU and the Big Four this winter. Teams would be alternated for home and away exhibition games each year.

This season, Ottawa Rough Riders and Toronto Argos are expected to come west to play Winnipeg and Edmonton while Calgary Stamps and Saskatchewan Roughriders go east in clash with Montreal Alouettes and Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Veteran Trio Retires From Lacrosse

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP) — Art Pruden, rookie coach of the New Westminster Salmonacs inter-city league lacrosse team, plans to pick his club early this season and stick with it.

Getting set for a club meeting Thursday, Pruden said he'll pick his team from the players who turn out at the start and [illegible] said any players who turn up late expecting to push one of the regulars off the team won't have a chance this season, no matter how good they are.

Pruden disclosed that Jake Proctor, Reo Jerome and Alfie Wood have retired from the game and the Salmonacs likely will build around Bill Inbh, Bert Houston, Hugh Cruikshank, Jake Trotzuk, Bob Anderson and Ted Mosdell.

Salmonacs will play a short-passing, quick-breaking game, said Pruden.

Quebec Group Given Extra Time To Purge Its Contempt of CAHA

MONTREAL (CP) — The wordy squabble in amateur hockey, under full steam on a 36 hour extension, appears to be reaching its loudest pitch on two points: apologies and reinstatement.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association Wednesday [illegible] branch must apologize for being defiant if it wants its teams to enter the junior and senior Canadian championship series for the Memorial and Allan Cups.

The Quebec Amateur Hockey Association said apologies or no apologies its officers must be reinstated in full command of the branch.

NOON DEADLINE

The CAHA said the QAHA can make up its mind by noon today. There was an earlier deadline — midnight Tuesday night — for teams and leagues within the QAHA to express their willingness to align themselves with the CAHA in the dispute.

In effect, this deadline has been put another 36 hours ahead while the QAHA decides what it will do. So far as is known here, no teams have abandoned the QAHA in its dispute with the CAHA. The Quebec Senior Hockey League withdrew from the QAHA [illegible]

The original issue was over the playing status of 18-year-old Ron Attwell, who has played with Montreal junior Canadiens. The CAHA claimed Attwell is still registered within its Ontario branch. The QAHA claimed it properly granted Attwell a certificate to play within the Quebec branch. On this issue the QAHA, but not its component parts, was suspended for defying the parent body.

In the continuing rumpus since, new points have arisen. Attwell has been dropped from the roster of the junior Canadien on grounds he was being made the innocent goat. The QAHA notified the CAHA of this situation and sought reinstatement.

QUESTION OF AUTHORITY

At his home in Midland, Ont., secretary manager George Dudley of the CAHA said the issue is not over Attwell but whether a ruling of the CAHA "is to have authority or be treated with contempt by its branches."

He said QAHA "has until noon Thursday to purge its contempt."

Dudley was asked by The Canadian Press: "If the QAHA apologizes, do its officers go back into good standing?"

"Not at present," he said. "They will remain suspended until the CAHA annual meeting in May but would be permitted to carry on the branch meanwhile. Penalty, if any, would be dealt with at the annual meeting."

On this point, QAHA officers in Montreal said: "If we are still under suspension how [illegible] us to carry on the Quebec branch's operations?"

Dudley was asked also that in event of the demanded apology being made would Attwell be considered eligible by the CAHA to play with Canadiens.

"He is out for this season," said Dudley. "After this season he will be a free agent."

President Martin Conway of the QAHA said that at the moment the major point is reinstatement of the QAHA officers unconditionally until the CAHA annual meeting.

Conway also said he had wired Dudley and other CAHA officers that the dispute could be settled if reinstatement were met.

DCRA Makes Trophy Shoot Much Tougher

OTTAWA (CP) — The Governor-General's Trophy match, feature of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's annual week long shoot at nearby Connaught rifle ranges, has been made tougher for the 1953 competition, which opens August 10.

At the annual meeting Monday, the association decided to increase the number of rounds in the final stage at the 900 yard range to 15 from 10. The other stages would remain unchanged with 10 rounds at 300 yards and 15 rounds at 600 yards.

In order to encourage participation by younger marksmen, the association reported a new award to be known as the Burke cadet junior aggregate. A cash prize will be given by its founder, Dr Desmond Burke of Toronto, recognized as Canada's No. 1 marksman.

Chief business of the meeting was the election of the 80-member council of the DCRA with representatives from each of the 10 provinces.

Lt.-Col. George Patrick of Ottawa, former commanding officer of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, was re-elected chairman of the council.

Executive members include: Maj. J. W. Houlden, Winnipeg, Inspector W. V. C. Chisholm, RCMP, Edmonton and Maj. J. M. MacNeil, Vancouver.

Hitters Ahead of Hurlers In Pre-Season Contests

Pitchers took a thumping yesterday as 15 of the 16 major league baseball teams continued their spring training in eight exhibition games.

The eight games saw 120 runs scored on 164 hits, which included no less than 22 home runs.

Heaviest cannonading came at Los Angeles, where the St. Louis Browns hit six home runs in pounding out a 29-4 win. It was the fourth straight win for the Brownies.

Brooklyn Dodgers, favored to repeat as National League champions, rang up their fifth in a row while the Detroit Tigers, expected to wind up somewhere in the lower reaches of the American League, carried their undefeated streak through a fourth game. The world-champion New York Yankees, meanwhile had their streak snapped at three games.

Dodgers edged Philadelphia A's, 4-2, in one of the two games in which no home runs were hit. The Tigers bested Boston Braves, 14-10, due to a seven-run fifth inning featured by Walt Dropo's home run. The Yanks got home runs from Charlie Silvera, Mickey Mantle and Joe Collins but lost, 7-4, to Washington Senators, who had Gil Coan provide the winning margin with a three-run circuit smash.

GIANTS UNDEFEATED

New York Giants also remained undefeated by whipping Chicago White Sox, 7-3, for their fourth win. Neither side hit for the circuit but eighth-inning home runs by Hank Sauer and Gene Baker, which produced three runs, gave Chicago Cubs a 6-4 victory over Cleveland Indians. Harry Simpson and Luke Easter hit homers for the Indians.

And, at Clearwater, two home runs by 19-year-old rookie catcher Ed Bailey accounted for five runs and gave Cincinnati Reds an 11-7 bulge over Philadelphia Phils.

Louise Suggs Shows Lowest Golf Average

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Louise Suggs, National Open champion, is leading the standings in the race for the new Glenna Collett Vare Trophy in the Ladies' Professional Golfers' Association.

Miss Suggs' average of 73.60 strokes per round in the five tournaments to date this year is the lowest among the women pros. Babe Zaharias is second with a stroke average of 74.13. Betsy Rawls, leading money winner last year, is third with 74.73.

The women's equivalent of the men's Vardon Trophy will be awarded annually to the pro with the lowest scoring average for the year.

Two Favorites Scratched From Steeplechase Event

LONDON (AP) — Forty four steeplechasers still are in the Grand National scheduled for March 28 at Aintree.

The final acceptance list for the four miles and 856 yards over 30 of the toughest jumps in the world was published Wednesday.

Missing from the list of probable starters were Teal, last year's winner, who is to have an operation for a ruptured bowel, and Royal Tan, second in 1951. Irish trainer Vincent O'Brien said he could not get the horses fit in time for the gruelling test.

Originally 73 steeplechasers were entered for the blue ribbon of jumping.

Among the probable starters is Jock Whitney's nine year old Kentucky.

The race will be worth $26,107 to the winning owner, plus a trophy valued at $1,400. Second money will be $3,174 and third place will be $1,671.

The scratching of Teal and Royal Tan ruined the betting market on the race. Bookmakers hastily convened a call-over and made Lucky Dome, one of the lowest weighted horses in the handicap at 140 pounds, the new 10-1 favorite.

Lucky Dome is a stable companion of Royal Tan.

Early Mist and Little Yid were joint second favorites at 100 to 7. Then came Witty at 100 to 6.

Whispering Steel and Glen Fire were rated 20 to 1 and Cardinal Error 22 to 1. Wot No Sun, a consistent performer over the Aintree course was 25 to 1.

Three horses, Stormhead, Mont Tremblant and Parasol II were 33 to 1.

No other horse was given a price by the bookies. They can be assumed to be 100 to 1 shots.

Kiner Ready, Waits Word From Rickey

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ralph Kiner, the home run hitter who has reached no agreement with the Pittsburgh Pirates over his 1953 contract, said Tuesday he has heard nothing from Manager Branch Rickey in three weeks.

"I'm eager to be on my way to Havana as soon as we reach an agreement," Kiner declared. "I think I'm in good shape and could start playing right away. I've been running and batting every day and my timing is the only thing that needs some work."

Kiner said he was surprised he hadn't heard from Rickey. The Pittsburgh general manager declared the slugger a holdout when he failed to report at Havana March 1.

Previously Rickey had told Kiner he could report on March 15 but later rescinded that offer, which also had included a salary believed to be in the vicinity of $76,500, a cut from the reported $90,000 that made him the highest paid player in baseball.

Working out privately at Palm Springs, Kiner said he's trimmed off about six pounds and is down to 197, his approximate playing weight.

Tanforan Boycott Ended By New Purse Agreement

MERCED, Calif. (AP)—The Boycott of Tanforan race track by the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association and the Jockey's Guild was ended here Wednesday.

The vans will start moving north from Santa Anita immediately and the Tanforan meeting will swing into normal

Leading western horsemen met here this morning under the chairmanship of Dwight Murphy of Santa Barbara, chairman of the State Racing Board, to work out a plan to end the boycott.

At Tanforan, a management statement gave the settlement minimum guarantee as $1,090,000, instead of $1,097,000, explaining the discrepancy as a difference in the calculation of "breakage," which the track receives on all wagering up to $27,000,000.

Tanforan manager Fred H. Ryan said the settlement approximated the 40 per cent profit split sought by the horsemen, but that it did not bind the track management to any set percentage deal.

The boycott started over a demand of the horsemen that the the purses total 40 per cent of the track's share of the handle.

Launching of Minesweeper Takes Place This Morning

WITH THE NAVY

BY RAY WORMALD

Second minesweeper to be launched in this area in the RCN's current fleet expansion program, HMCS James Bay will be launched at Yarrows Ltd at 11 a.m. today.

The ship will be christened by Mrs. Ella F Rogers, wife of [illegible]

HMCS James Bay is 152 feet in length with a beam of 28 feet. Her hull is of aluminum with fir sheathing. She also has wooden decks. The vessel will be powered by two diesel engines, each developing 1,200 horsepower, and driving twin screws.

First sweeper launched here in the navy's present building program was HMCS Comox, in which finish work is still under way at the Bay Street plant of VMD.

CPO Rogers, at present an instructor in the supply school of HMCS Naden, is a veteran of nearly 20 years' service in the Royal Canadian Navy, and is the senior non-commissioned officer in the steward branch. He has served in a number of ships during his lengthy service and was a supervisor of the escort carrier HMCS Nabob torpedoed off the northern coast of Norway in August, 1944.

Navy tradition: Saluting the quarterdeck. Every officer or man salutes the quarterdeck whenever he sets foot on it, when he comes aboard or goes ashore, be it ever so many times a day.

The custom is believed to date back to pagan times when "genuflexions and obeisances" were made to pagan shrines to gain the forgiveness or favor of various gods of the seas.

With the advent of Christianity the same respect was paid to the shrine of the Virgin. It is believed to be the oldest naval tradition, and is even thought to be responsible for the modern civilian custom of raising the hat.

[illegible] ship existing between the Royal Canadian Navy and the general public here, a large jewelry store at 1317 Douglas Street is now featuring an "anchors aweigh" engagement-wedding ring set.

Each of the rings feature diamond-set anchors on each shoulder of the band. The anchors are of white gold, on a leaf design. Recently introduced here, the "strictly navy" ring set is proving very popular.

The Red Cross mobile blood donor clinic will visit HMCS Dockyard today and tomorrow. Volunteers will be accepted from both naval and civilian personnel employed within Dockyard, as well as from all HMC ships berthed in the area. A similar two-day clinic was held in HMCS Naden early last month, with Red Cross officials describing the response as "excellent."

Lieut.-Cmdr. Robert Lambert Ellis, of Victoria, is commanding officer of the Algerine minesweeper HMCS New Liskeard on the East Coast. His appointment became effective March 3.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Ellis entered the naval service as a boy seaman in March, 1930. Outbreak of the last war found him serving as a petty officer in the destroyer Saguenay. Promoted to lieutenant early in the war he served in several ships and shore establishments, including the cruiser Ontario, naval headquarters and HMCS Naden. Before his present command he served as staff officer (torpedo anti-submarine) on the staff of the director of weapons and tactics.

Membership continues to increase at HMCS Malahat, with five names added to the local naval reserve earlier this week. CPO Walter Burch reports the following attested into the division:

Alexander Hogg, 2106 Granite Street, as PO electrical technician; Grenville Temple, 174 Olive Street, former sea cadet, as able seaman; Garth Myers, 203 Quebec Street, former sea cadet, as ordinary seaman stoker mechanic; Alfred LaLonde, 140 Bay Street, as ordinary seaman; and Marilyn J. Winterburn, 3918 Cumberland Street, as administrative writer in the Wrens' division.

Any Victorians interested in naval reserve activities may receive detailed information regarding the division and its activities by inquiring at Malahat', downtown offices at 916 Government Street.

Rahindranath Tagore, the great Indian poet, wrote more than 20 collections of poems besides many other works.

Prowler Goes Without Loot

A prowler who broke into the Atlas Mattress Factory, 2714 Quadra Street about 11.45 p.m. Tuesday night left empty-handed, police report.

A window was forced on the west side of the building to gain entry, and the thief went straight to a money box in the factory office, according to police. Nothing else was disturbed or removed.

Two minor break-and-entries were reported by Colwood RCMP. A cabin of the Belmont Motel was entered and a house on the Island Highway was also broken into. In neither case was anything stolen or disturbed.

Animal Question Box

Tone of Voice All-Important in Training Dogs

BY B. ROBERT MAGGS

A reader of this column brought his dog to visit me yesterday, with the complaint that even though he had tried for the past six months to train the dog, he could, as he put it, do nothing with him.

He had tried to teach him to "heel, sit, come when called," etc., but the dog would have none of it. We took the dog outside—he is a 16-month-old [illegible] owner to demonstrate just how he had been trying to train him.

First thing wrong was that he was giving the dog orders in the tone of a question, and using too many words. He would say, "Come on now Brutus, heel?" with a rising inflection on the word "heel." He might as well have said, "Come on, Brutus let's play a game of darts."

The owner of Brutus knew all the correct motions, that is, he pressed down on the dog's hindquarters when he gave his little speech about sitting, but the dog was so confused that he could not follow instructions.

As we have said many times before, the tone of voice is most important. When you press down on the dog's hindquarters you should just say one word—"sit." You could just as well say "boo or up."

The dog does not understand the word "sit." He does under[illegible] associates it with the idea that he should it. In teaching him to heel you use the choke chain collar and he learns that it is much more comfortable to walk where you want him to, rather than try to drag you down the street.

However, in a matter of 20 minutes Brutus heeled and sat and his owner has a much better understanding of how to train his dog.

Mr. E. G. V.—At what age should a dog's tail be docked?

A.—If tails are to be cut, it should be done when the pup is about 15 days old.

Mrs. P. B. T.—What is a cataract?

A.—In reference to animals' eyes a cataract is a white spot appearing on the interior of the eyeball. It usually leads to blindness; an operation is the only cure and it is not often [illegible] acts are common.

Mr. T. L.—Is the whippet an old breed of dog, or is it comparatively new?

A.—The whippet is one of the newest breeds. It was developed only a little more than a century ago, from small greyhounds. The whippet is said to be the fastest tame animal for its weight, in the world. English miners bred whippets as pets and to race against each other long before they were recognized as a distinct breed of dog. Because of this, the whippet has been called the "poorman's race horse."

There is no "overnight cure" for irregularity

But there is a simple, natural answer to the common problem of irregularity due to lack of bulk

There are men and women (perhaps you're one of them) who won't let "nature take its course". THEY TRY TO SUBSTITUTE UNNATURAL "FORCING ACTION" FOR THE NATURAL REGULARITY WHICH SENSIBLE DAILY HABITS AND SUFFICIENT BULK IN THE DIET COULD PROBABLY MAINTAIN.

Many fall into the habit of using laxatives in a way laxative makers never intended. They take "big doses" willy nilly without even reading the directions on the label.

Naturally, such overdosing—with products intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage—exerts upon the delicate digestive system an unnatural strain.

There's nothing wrong of course, with taking laxatives occasionally. If you feel you have to take a laxative, just be sure you take it wisely in an accurate, recommended dose.

BUT THERE IS A WAY TO AVOID TAKING DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES AND TO PLACE YOUR DEPENDENCE ON NATURE, IF LACK OF BULK IN THE DIET IS YOUR TROUBLE.

In many natural foods such as certain vegetables, fruits and grains—nature grows abundant natural bulk which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no other natural food is natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel known generally as bran.

Bran is nature's "laxative food instead of a medicine". When properly processed and shredded whole wheat bran yields smooth natural bulk that the digestive system can handle in a natural way.

The Kellogg Company has made whole wheat bran into a delicious breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN PERFORMS NATURALLY WHAT DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES DO CHEMICALLY. IT HELPS CLEAR THE INTESTINES OF WASTE IN A NATURAL WAY. IT PROVIDES SOFT NATURAL BULK FOR EASY NATURAL ACTION.

There is no stomach upset, no churning, no after-effect except the feeling of satisfaction and fulfillment that comes with natural, normal elimination.

To obtain lasting relief of course, Kellogg's All-Bran must be eaten regularly. You can have it for breakfast every morning secure in the knowledge that it isn't habit-forming.

More than one million servings of Kellogg's All-Bran are consumed each day. This popularity of itself is proof that this natural laxative cereal lives up to what we say about it.

But even better proof comes from thousands of satisfied All-Bran users. They write of their own free will to tell us what natural relief they receive from eating Kellogg's All-Bran daily and drinking plenty of water.

EAT KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN EVERY MORNING FOR BREAKFAST FOR 10 DAYS. THEN, IF YOU'RE NOT COMPLETELY SATISFIED, SEND THE EMPTY CARTON TO THE KELLOGG COMPANY, LONDON, ONTARIO AND GET DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Remember, Kellogg's All-Bran has helped millions. Why not you?

Costain's Best-Selling Novel, 'The Silver Chalice'

BY THOMAS COSTAIN

Twentieth installment from the book "The Silver Chalice." Copyright 1952 by Thomas B. Costain. Published by Doubleday & Co., Inc.

Chapter 20

For two weeks Basil worked with unabated concentration. He sat at his worktable all through the day and sometimes far into the night. At meals he had little to say, being absorbed in his thoughts. His appetite was small and he had to be urged to partake of the fine dishes spread before him.

Understanding the fever that possessed him, Deborra made few efforts to break through the wall of his silence.

When visitors began to come to the house Deborra stood between them and the hard-pressed artist. She attended to them with a coolness and dispatch which demonstrated how very much she took after her grandfather.

One visitor arrived while Deborra was sitting in a shaded corner of the second court and [illegible] her kimono. He was a tall man with a wicker tray on his head.

The tall man bowed without disturbing the position of the tray or dislodging its contents, a feat possible only through long practice. "I have message[s] [illegible] for those who dwell in this house."

"My husband is engaged," said Deborra. "But Luke the Physician is here. Shall I have him join us?"

The man bowed again. When Luke arrived, his eyes heavy with the afternoon sleep from which he had been roused, he recognized the visitor at once.

"It is Hananiah," he said, smiling in welcome. "It is gratifying to see that you continue in good health. This is Deborra, the granddaughter of Joseph of Arimathea and wife of Basil. What have you learned on your journeyings back and forth through the streets of the city?"

"That God is good," answered Hananiah, "and that His Son has brought much happiness into the hearts of men. I have heard of things that matter much less, Luke the Physician." He dropped his voice to a low pitch. "Tobias, who watches the Iron Gate, reports the arrival of Mijamin, the Zealot, from Jerusalem."

"The coming of Mijamin," said Luke, "has to do with that which is being guarded in this house."

Hananiah nodded his head. "There is this much in our favor. The authorities watch the Zealots closely. It has been forbidden to [illegible] hold meetings or to gather in force. They will have to act with great caution. Jehovah be praised for all His mercies."

Luke watched the tall figure on its way to the door. "Hananiah was once a man of great wealth. When he came into the fold he gave his olive groves to the men who had worked for him and turned all his gold in to the church to be distributed among the poor. For years he and his wife have lived under a strip of canvas in the back yard of a tannery. His wife makes the sweetmeats and he sells them, and they live happily on the meagre proceeds."

"He has a wonderful face," commented Deborra.

Luke was giving thought to the situation they faced. "Basil must not be told of this," he said. "If he knew he would think it his duty to remain with us. It is more important to have the Chalice finished so we can give it into the hands of the church leaders here or in Jerusalem. I confess it will be a weight off my mind when it will no longer be necessary to keep it hidden this way. To have it finished should be our first consideration and so we must not keep him here."

"Yes, we must see to it that he goes at once to Rome."

Luke smiled at her with affectionate confidence. "To let him go will put a heavy load on your shoulders, my child. I know you can carry it."

* * *

Basil was to leave for Rome at dawn. It had been Deborra's hope that they could have their last meal alone together, but she came to realize that this would be very selfish. She had prepared a very special supper therefore, and had Luke and other friends sit down with him. She contented herself, as a good wife should, with seeing that they were served tender slices of the roast young kid, that the bread was crisp and hot from the oven and the wine well cooled.

Her tasks completed, Deborra seated herself at a small table under the arched walk that surrounded the court, and a servant brought out a lighted lamp and placed it beside her. An Egyptian cat, attracted by the light, emerged from some high perch and rubbed against her ankles. She reached down a hand and smoothed his ears. "You might really get to be fond of me," she said, "if you were willing to try."

The analogy this suggested caused her to look at the table where Basil sat with his guests. His eyes met hers and, sensing an invitation, he rose to his feet and crossed the court. He seated himself on the opposite side of the table from her.

"You seem in low spirits," said Deborra. "I expected you to be happy tonight. You are setting out to finish the Chalice. While you are away you may find the evidence to use in ousting Linus. Your going then should not be the occasion for the drawing of a long face."

"I am happy that the time has come to set out on my travels and yet I am also sad at the need to go," he said. "It may be that you do not want me to return."

She said "Basil!" in a tone that suggested reproach. Then she fell into a thoughtful mood and it was some moments before she began to speak of what she was thinking. "I want you to return. I would be, yes, I must say it, I would be quite unhappy if you did not. But it depends on so many things, doesn't it? On whether you want to return. And on whether we can get some matters settled between us."

"It must be as clear to you as it is to me," he said in a low tone, "that we cannot go on as we are doing."

"No," she answered, "that is true. It was agreed between us at the start that our marriage would be on the terms which I had suggested. I want to say now that you have been very kind, Basil. You have kept to the terms with—with the greatest strictness."

"I knew it was your wish."

"Yes, it was my wish. I can not find fault with anything you have said or done. And now that you are going away, I want to thank you for being so fair always and so very kind."

"If there is to be any change it must be in accordance with your wishes."

She cried out vehemently. "No, no! What we are to do with our lives depends entirely on you. Do what you have to [illegible] Basil, don't you see that that from this moment on I cannot speak another word? That I must wait for you to say whatever is to be said?"

He reached a hand across the table in the dark and touched hers. "I have been on the defensive and have not felt free to speak. But now I can see that I have been lacking in understanding," he said. After a moment of silence he rose to his feet. "Let us stroll in the garden while we finish our talk. Do you realize as much as I do that we owe something to these friends who are so deeply concerned about us?"

"Yes, I know that we do."

They reached a spot where it was possible to see the moon rising over the upper portions of the house and they stood in silence for several moments watching it.

"Basil," said Deborra, "I exacted a promise of you. That you would not see Helena when you were in Rome. Now I withdraw it. I want you to promise that you will see her."

Basil was taken by surprise. He frowned in the darkness, wondering what reason she could have for changing her mind. "I intend to abide by the promise I made you," he said. "There is no desire on my part to see her."

Deborra spoke slowly. "I think it would be a wise thing to do. Don't ask me for my reasons. I am not sure I could explain. Perhaps this one reason will be enough: that it might be helpful to both of us later—when it comes to deciding what we are to do."

He hesitated and then said, "It shall be as you wish."

His arm went about her. He drew her closer. It might have been counted a minor miracle that in the darkness his lips found hers unerringly, except that her willingness had been such a great help. For a moment she clung to him, standing eagerly on tiptoe. Then with a deep sigh she drew away.

"Luke will be glad," she whispered. "Was it for his sake that you kissed me?"

"I did not give him a thought," declared Basil.

There was a pause and then she began to whisper again. "I will be less unhappy now to see you go. But Basil, we must face it. It is your duty to go and mine to let you. You must see her as you promised, when you get to Rome. This I am going to ask of you: see her with new eyes. Only if you can forget her completely after seeing her, will it be possible for us to plan a different kind of life to share."

(To Be Continued)

Boil sugar, water and ROGERS' GOLDEN SYRUP until [illegible] of mixture forms "soft ball" when tested in cold water [illegible]. Cool slightly and pour gradually over stiffly beaten egg whites, beating until mixture is smooth, heavy and of dull appearance. Add flavoring and drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased paper to harden.

Group Renews Effort To Set Up Brewery

A group of ex-servicemen, thwarted in their attempt just after the Second World War to operate a brewery in B.C., will again apply for a license.

The Veterans' Brewery (Holding) Ltd. of Vancouver has been incorporated again at the provincial companies office. The registration, struck off in July, 1951, was restored February 25. The company was first incorporated in December, 1945. Authorized capital is $50,000.

The group originally wanted to sell its product to the Liquor Control Board, but the former government refused a license. A series of public protest meetings took place, but the government refused to reverse its decision.

The veterans ... consider their chances of success have improved because of the change in government.

Ballet Group To Appear Tonight Only

The Slavenska Franklin Ballet will be here for one performance only tonight.

Featuring Ballet Russe dancers Mia Slavenska and Frederick Franklin, dancing the lead roles, the company will stage the Tennessee Williams hit, "A Streetcar Named Desire."

This intense drama has received nation-wide acclaim from critics and has been called "the finest contribution in ballet in the present generation."

Also starring with the company of 50 dancers and musicians is ballerina Alexandra Danilova, who will dance the lead in "Mlle Fifi," a ballet written especially for her by Zachary Solov.

Curtain time at the Royal Theatre is 8.30 p.m.

Performance will begin at 8.30 p.m. There will be one performance only.

Sailor's Term Reduced

HONG KONG (Reuters) — Norman Robins, a Canadian naval rating whose wife and two children live in Victoria, today had an 18-month jail sentence for illegal possession of arms reduced to two months.

Robins was sentenced January 21 for trying to sell a pistol here while on leave from the Canadian destroyer Crusader. A companion, Stephen George Hlansey of Drumheller, Alta., was sentenced to 12 months on a similar charge.

Judge E. H. Williams said in appeal court he was reducing Robins' sentence because he was "undoubtedly a very brave man" who had been recommended for the British Empire Medal, and it was possible the lower court had not taken this into account.

The 12-month sentence on Hlasney was confirmed. They were both convicted of possessing firearms without a license.

Rock-Wielding Youth Unknown To 15-Year-Old City Girl Victim

Fifteen-year-old Bernice Tingstad, 1335 Pembroke, still doesn't know who it was that attacked her with a rock Tuesday night near the Gladstone-Shakespeare intersection as she was returning home from a music lesson.

The Central Junior High School student told police that a boy of about her own age struck her repeatedly with a rock shortly after she had left a bus at Pandora and Begbie. She said she had been knocked down three times, then the ... Shakespeare Street.

Miss Tingstad said the youth was a complete stranger. She could not offer any description.

Her injuries included bruises about the head, sprained right ankle and cuts about her knees.

BEHIND HER

She said she had heard someone walking behind her shortly before the attack, then heard the sound of gravel being scraped. She looked back and saw the stranger lean over to pick something from the ground.

Next she saw a shadow and then received the first blow on her head. "It all happened so fast and I was so dazed by the blows that I couldn't even scream," Bernice stated.

The dazed, injured girl was found by Mr. and Mrs. Erik Hansen of 1601 Pembroke. They assisted her to her home.

Police conducted an extensive search of the district but were unable to locate the assailant.

Travelers Arrive; Home Comes Next

Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Blake of Bristol, England, arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon. Surmising that they would be confronted with a housing shortage, they brought their home with them in the form of a 36-foot cabin cruiser. Vessel crossed Atlantic as cargo on a freighter, and will arrive in Victoria March 20. The Blakes with their nine-month-old son, Rodney, plan to live on board the boat until they can either buy or build a home.

Friday the 13th To Be Luckiest For Two High School Students

Friday the 13th will be the luckiest day of their lives for two high school students.

A hand dipping into a hat containing 10 slips of paper at 10.30 a.m. tomorrow will decide which two Greater Victoria high school students will travel to the Coronation.

With the hand will go the hopes of hundreds of youngsters, although the 10 final names from five area schools are already decided.

J. F. K. English, Greater Victoria School Board chairman, in announcing the drawing, to be held at the board offices, last night said that the names of 10 students were to be chosen by their teachers.

The board chairman pointed out, however, that only $600 of the necessary $1,800 or $2,000 to finance the trip is in sight.

He said it was decided that the selection of the lucky pair should be delayed no longer even though the fund is incomplete.

Donations may be made to Mr. English at the school board offices. They will be placed in a trust account established for sending the students to the Coronation.

Opportunity Missed To Seek Arbitration

The city and municipalities have lost the opportunity of going to arbitration over the $4,398,136 school budget as they threatened to when it was first released.

Deadline for filing notice was March 5.

City solicitor Arthur Patton said the city's finance committee had asked him to study the question of arbitration but were under the impression they had until March 10 to file notice.

The city's share of the increase over the 1952 budget is $177,000 this year.

West Coast, Vancouver Island—Variable cloudiness with rain showers or mixed rain and snow. Cooler Thursday. Light winds increasing to northwesterly 25. High at Estevan, 41.

Jaycee Named To Arrange Celebrations

NANAIMO—Frank Ney of the newly formed Junior Chamber of Commerce was elected chairman of Empire Day celebrations at an enthusiastic meeting Wednesday night.

The junior chamber, at the request of Mayor George Muir, has taken over sponsorship of the celebration.

The meeting recommended that the May Queen be chosen from among students of Grade 9 or over.

R.M. McIntosh To Seek Federal Seat

R. M. McIntosh of Elk Lake has been named CCF nominee for the Esquimalt - Saanich riding in the forthcoming federal election.

R. M. McINTOSH

Born and raised in Cape Breton, N.S., Mr. McIntosh spent his first 21 years on the family farm there, and later worked on railway construction in Eastern Canada. He moved to Prince Rupert in 1908 and until 1911 was in the building trades.

With the Canadian Army in the First World War, he saw overseas service for nearly two years before being wounded and returned to Canada with the rank of sergeant. He spent two years in the Esquimalt military hospital, and following his discharge established his present home at Elk Lake.

Mr. McIntosh is a past chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, has been a member and officer of the Baptist Church for many years, and has been an active member of the CCF since its formation.

He has served as a CCF council delegate and for seven years was a provincial council delegate.

Glenshiel Zoning Bid Given Strong Support

Application for rezoning the Glenshiel Hotel, recently turned down by the city, has received strong support from Peter Hartnell, owner of the neighboring Thunderbird Apartments.

Owners of the hotel, the Sisters of the Love of Jesus, requested that the building be rezoned from apartment to commercial so the coffee shop could be opened to the public. The town planning commission recommended against it.

Mr. Hartnell said he felt the move to rezone would be in the public interest and stated the hotel had been in a commercial zone for 40 years before it was changed a few years ago.

He called it a "retrograde step" to reduce "an obvious and established commercial property to a zone indicating lessening of business activity."

Former 'Princess' Founders

The hull of the CPR's former Princess Victoria now lies many fathoms deep near Sechelt, B.C.

About a year ago the ship was sold, stripped, and reduced to a hog fuel carrier for service between Vancouver and Powell River. She was named Tahsis III.

Tuesday the barge struck a rock in Welcome Pass, 10 miles north of Sechelt, and sank. With her went a $20,000 cargo of pulp chips, being delivered to the Powell River Company. The fuel carrier is owned by Tahsis Company Ltd., and was under tow when she struck the reef.

Reports from Vancouver yesterday said survey crews were on the way to the scene to determine salvage possibility.

New Cut Facing Insurance Agents

BY HARRY YOUNG

British Columbia insurance agents may have to face another five per cent cut in their commission when the 1953 automobile insurance rates are announced next month.

The move is believed to be part of the insurance companies' attempt to keep down the cost of automobile insurance which this year may be due for another boost.

The present commission rate on automobile insurance is 20 per cent. It was cut last year from 25 per cent.

The All-State Insurance Company is preparing to sell over-the-counter insurance in British Columbia shortly. This would cut out agents' commissions altogether.

"We have had no information on the point," said a prominent Victoria insurance man last night. "But we realize that everybody has to contribute something towards keeping car premiums at a reasonable rate.

"If our commissions are cut again to 15 per cent it would be quite a serious matter individually, but we would all have to go out and try and do a little more business."

No relief is to be expected this year when the new rates are announced, although it is expected that there will be an incentive to more careful driving by introduction of bonuses for premium holders who have no claims after 12 months.

Retirements Empty Courthouse Posts

Two positions are to be filled at Victoria's courthouse through recent retirements of the county Sheriff Duncan MacBride, and of the Supreme Court registrar Cleve G. White.

DUNCAN MacBRIDE

CLEVE G. WHITE

Mr. MacBride, sheriff for the past eight years, is on holiday until April 1 when his retirement begins officially. With no fixed hobby, Mr. MacBride said he plans just a "quiet rest at home" for the time being.

ACTIVE PART

Mr. MacBride, 68, took an active part in community affairs before his appointment, being a former president of the Chamber of Commerce and of Vancouver Island boards of trade, and professionally as president of Victoria branch, Engineering Institute of Canada.

Mr. White retired earlier this month after having been Supreme and County Court registrar since 1938. The barrister said he has no active plans for his retirement.

NO HINT

There has been no hint as to who will become the new registrar. There is no requirement that the civil service position be filled by a barrister although in larger centres such has been the practice.

Position of sheriff is filled by government appointment.

Heat Unit Installation May Bring Tax Rebate

If you have installed a new house or office heating unit since September 26, 1951, you may be entitled to a rebate of federal sales tax.

The federal tariff board has found that furnaces sold as a complete heating unit should be exempt from the 10 per cent sales tax. This includes oil as well as solid-fuel burning furnaces.

It is believed that a number of Victoria people will be eligible for the rebate which may amount to anything from $15 to $50 according to the original cost of the installation.

Social Credit Tyros Pouring Into Groups

The membership drive currently being staged on Vancouver Island by the B.C. Social Credit League passed the 5,000 mark yesterday, the association claimed.

"Memberships are coming in at a steady pace and if they continue like this with no change we'll make our 20,000 quota," said Percy Hawkins, Mill Bay, chairman of the Vancouver Island area council.

"Memberships were coming in at almost 100 a day for a while," he said. "It's fallen off since then of course but the drive has been steady."

He said there are "thousands of volunteer workers" signing up new Social Credit members on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Hawkins, who is also secretary-treasurer of the B.C. league, is in charge of organizing the party program on the Island.

"There will be Social Credit MLAs from Vancouver Island in the next legislature," he said recently.

A new Social Credit group which includes Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett and all cabinet members and their wives was opened in Victoria Tuesday.

The new group is called the Capital City Group. Each member, to be fully qualified, must bring in one more member to the group.

Area Union To Be Topic

Municipal amalgamation turned down unofficially by municipalities will be open for discussion Monday in the civic affairs group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Group chairman J. L. Hobbs said yesterday that the group also is to hear about city parking, logging and lumber loads, and Royal Portage Parks.

Minister Officially Opens New Oak Bay Junior High

As a "fitting" close to Education Week, Education Minister Tilly Rolston officially opened the new Oak Bay Junior High School last night.

"Education Week has lasted more than a month in B.C.," Mrs. Rolston told an audience of more than 400. "I don't think anything has excited more comment here than education in the last few weeks," she said.

Expressing the hope that the new school "will become the centre of Oak Bay," the minister said, "We may say a lot about the little red school house and what it has produced in the way of Lincolns but we don't know what greatness these new, modern schools will produce."

The new school has been in operation since November 12 and now houses about 300 students.

There will be more than 400 students next year and by 1955 "we will be clamoring for expansion," according to W. H. Golby, vice-chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board.

LIGHT SUGGESTION

Reeve P. A. Gibbs, Liberal MLA for Oak Bay, who also addressed the audience, suggested smilingly that Mrs. Rolston "may be persuaded to retire to beautiful Oak Bay in the near future."

The official party was followed by groups of the public in a tour of the building after the ceremony of cutting the ribbon.

There are six classrooms on the main floor of the new school, as well as offices, an auditorium, gym, metalwork shop, woodwork room, drafting room, [illegible] laboratory and food laboratory.

On the first floor are eight more classrooms, commercial rooms, library, science room and large locker area. On the floor above are art and music rooms.

Formal Appeal Due Over Freight Rates

Attorney-General Robert Bonner announced yesterday that the government has instructed its special counsel, C. W. Brazier, to prepare B.C.'s formal appeal against the 7 per cent increase in freight rates granted the railways this week by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

The appeal will be heard by the federal cabinet at a date still to be decided.

Mr. Brazier will appear before the federal cabinet with a member of the B.C. government, probably the attorney-general.

Mr. Bonner said the recent 7 per cent freight rate increase is an unjust imposition on B.C. in view of forthcoming hearings to be held on the question of equalization of rates.

Mr. Brazier has been retained for some time by both the present and previous governments to fight B.C.'s freight rate battles.

Ceremony Set For Scouters

—AROUND TOWN—

Honors and awards to British Columbia Scouters, including two Victorians, recently announced by Governor-General Vincent Massey, will be presented at the annual banquet of the B.C. Boy Scout Association in the Vancouver Hotel, March 20.

Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace will make the presentations.

Those from Victoria receiving awards are Patrol Leader Robert Showers, 2295 Cranmore, who rescued a boy who had fallen into a campfire last summer, and Scoutmaster Alvin Walters, 354 Gorge Road West, for his organizational work at Ganges.

Attending the special conference in Vancouver March 20 and 21, will be Commissioner E. A. Estlin; president of the Victoria Boy Scout Association, James D. Munro and Executive Commissioner Freeman King.

Many Think It Will Come Unasked

Though Refund Due, Request Still Needed

BY GORDON HOLMS, CA
Member of Institute of Chartered Accountants

Every person who received an income during 1952 which was in excess of his personal exemptions must file a 1952 income tax return by April 30.

The income tax department lists three classifications of persons who must file returns.

Those whose earned income (after deduction of union dues and pension plan contributions), plus their investment income, is greater than the total of their personal exemptions and deductions.

Those who had tax deducted at the source by their employers during 1952, which was in excess of the total tax they are required to pay and who, therefore, want to obtain a refund of the overpayment.

Those who have been requested by the head of the local income tax branch to file an income tax return.

There is one important comment to be made on the second classification. It is the responsibility of the person wishing a refund to file a return and request it—neither his employer nor the income tax department has any responsibility to see to an unclaimed refund.

It is amazing how many people think that the refund will come to them unasked.

Some Indians are required to pay income tax, and the rule covering Canada's native sons is very simple.

If an income is derived off the reserve, that income is taxable on the same basis as anyone else.

But any income derived on the reserve is not taxable. Thus a successful Indian farmer on the reserve is not required to account for income from this source, or to pay tax.

But an Indian fishing off the reservation must pay income tax on the same basis as any other fisherman.

Pruning Demonstrated in Park

Beauty and You

By MARION MATTHEWS

Question—Permanents never hold in my hair and I wonder if you could suggest something to do about this. I lost my husband nearly two years ago. I am a nervous type and always have been. Vitamins don't seem to help.

Answer: I do think since you are so nervous that you should be under a doctor's care. He could prescribe medicine that would help alleviate this condition and suggest a program of rest and recreation that would give you a better sense of well being. As your health improves so should your hair. Hair is a guide to good health and if yours is giving you trouble in just the last few years, chances are it will [illegible] health picks up. Don't stop brushing it or giving it the usual care by shampooing as often as necessary. Have it smartly trimmed and perhaps for the time being you might omit permanents. A short, smart cut that can be cared for without too much trouble may be your answer for the present. Keep up your efforts; they eventually will bring an improvement.

Question: I am 17 years old and weigh 139 pounds. My measurements are bust 38, waist 31, hips 41. I am five feet eight and a half inches tall with large bone structure. My friends tell me I am too thin but my doctor tells me I am about right. What do you think?

Answer: Certainly if your doctor says your weight is all right, I wouldn't think any more about it. Actually, with large bones your weight is perfect according to a well-accepted weight chart.

by Laura Wheeler

SPICE AND SPARKLE!

Like frosting on a cake, this dainty motif embellishes your linens, adds beauty to your bedroom. Fun to embroider, then add ready-made eyelet ruffles.

Embroidery pattern 681, large motif for sheet, 18½x7 inches, 2 smaller for cases 13⅝x5 inches.

Send thirty five cents in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern to the Laura Wheeler Pattern Department, The Victoria Colonist, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont. Print plainly size, name, address, style number. The pattern will be mailed from Toronto and should reach you in two weeks or less.

Exciting value! Ten, yes ten popular, new designs to crochet, sew, embroider, knit printed in the new 1953 Laura Wheeler Needlecraft book. Plus many more patterns to send for: ideas for gifts, bazaar money-makers, fashions! Send 25 cents for your copy!

To Bear Queen's Train

Among six daughters of British peers who will bear the Queen's train at her Coronation on June 2, will be Lady Mary Baillie-Hamilton, left, daughter of the Earl of Haddington, and Lady Rosemary Spencer-Churchill, right, daughter of the Duke of Marlborough and a cousin of Prime Minister Winston Churchill. The maids of honor, ranging in age from 18 to 23, are all close friends of Princess Margaret and were selected by the Queen herself, following a precedent established by Queen Victoria. In contrast to the Queen's scarlet robes for the abbey ceremony, the maids of honor will be dressed in shimmering white satin.

Typical Working Girl Owns 8 Pairs of Shoes

Do you feel guilty when you buy a new pair of pretty leather shoes to go with your spring suit or dress because you have an overflowing shoe bag on your closet door?

Don't let your conscience bother you. You're just acting like any upstanding Canadian girl. At least, that's what's indicated in a survey released this month.

The average career girl owns 8—that's eight, no printer's error—pairs of shoes, including dress, casual, evening and sports types, the survey reveals. Incidentally, the average weekly salary of the women questioned was under $60.

The Canadian working girl is certainly well-shod but not always wisely shod. From the point of view of both appearance and comfort, the type of shoes you have is as important as the number. A well-balanced shoe wardrobe should have the following:

All-leather walking shoes with flat heels. These can be the popular moccasin or loafer type—or if you like something a bit more feminine, there are a variety of leather "flats" available in a multitude of colors and grains. Uppers and soles should be of leather, which cradles the foot comfortably—and allows air to circulate within the shoe, thus evaporating foot moisture.

Platform shoes, no longer a fad but a staple item in the shoe wardrobe, provide a middle road between the flat heeled shoe and the dressier version.

For spring suits and afternoon dresses, the leather opera pump—in smooth or suede leathers—is ideal. A leather sandal with a mid-heel is another double-purpose shoe. Both do fine at work and you're all ready for a date, without having to go home to change.

And, then of course there are the super-glamorous shoes for parties. The only limits here are your taste and purse. Heel heights are high, higher and still higher. Leathers range from sparkling gold kid to glowing, butter-smooth calf in a variety of jewel tones.

New Members Are Initiated

At the regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans four new members, Mrs. G. Williams, Mrs. E. Stevenson, Mrs. M. Ashbury and Mrs. E. Knight were initiated.

A further donation of $35 was made to the flood relief fund, bringing the total donation to $85. Mrs. V. Barry, hospital convener, gave a report.

A St. Patrick's Day tea was planned for Wednesday, March 18, in the auditorium.

Scouts Raise Sum of $320

Dance committee of the View Royal Boy Scout Group has announced that a profit of $320 has been realized from a recent dance.

Special thanks was given to Norma Wragg who played the Hammond organ at the affair.

Scoutmaster H. J. Burrough turned over $33 to the group funds, proceeds of a recent paper drive.

Past Noble Grands of the Victoria Rebekah Lodges are holding a St. Patrick's tea in the Oddfellows' Hall, Douglas Street, on Wednesday March 18, with home cooking and other articles for sale.

Today's Favorite Recipe

"This is one of my family favorites," says Mrs. Ross Fraser, Prospect Lake.

RAISIN PIE

Two cups raisins, 2 cups water, ⅓ cup brown sugar (packed down), 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 table[illegible] butter.

Boil raisins in 1¾ cups water for 5 minutes. Combine brown sugar, cornstarch, cinnamon and salt, moisten with remaining ¼ cup water, and add to the raisins, stirring until mixture boils. Remove from fire and add butter and vinegar. Pour into pastry lined pie pan, cover top with pastry. Bake 25 minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees).

St. Barnabas' Women's Club have arranged a mid-Lent silver tea and sale of home cooking to be held Friday, March 13, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the new church hall.

Total of $11,741 Is Raised by WA

Total receipts of $11,741 for 1952 were reported by treasurer of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of England, Mrs. L. K. Goodwin at yesterday's session of the Diocesan Board held in Memorial Hall.

Total budget for 1952 was $13,822.

Mrs. Goodwin said this figure represented an increase of $867 over the previous year's receipts. She added that interest in all their ventures, the Anglican Theological College, Maple Leaf Hospital, Leper work and Korean work, had grown.

Opening prayers were taken by Mrs H. H. Creal and the noon address by Canon A. E Greenhalgh.

Comox Deanery comprised 17 senior, five girls', five juniors' and 12 Little Helper groups, Mrs. J. Noel, Courtenay, reported.

Report of Cowichan Deanery, given by Mrs. F. R. Sadd, Chemainus, showed 12 senior branches, Four girls' auxiliaries, three junior auxiliaries and eight Little Helper groups.

Mrs. C. Millard, secretary of "Living Message," said 55 branches were subscribing to the publication and that there were 63 single subscriptions. Total receipts for the year were $687.

Mrs. A. F C. Watts, prayer secretary, said there were now 56 prayer partners in the diocese.

Lady Lake reported on the Anglican Theological College Fund saying that 23 students were in training.

Greetings were brought from sister societies from the Presbyterians, United and Baptist churches. Mrs. N Nanton of Saskatoon and Mrs A W. Rose of Winnipeg were visitors yesterday.

Nancy Hodges, MLA, addressed the gathering, speaking on impressions of a recent trip to Great Britain.

TODAY'S SESSION

Highlights of today's session will be an address by the Rev A. H. Holmes, an address by Miss D. Lancaster and result of election of officers.

Plan Reception

General meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, FOE, was held recently to make plans for official visit of Mrs. Bertha Morgan, New Westminster, provincial president.

A class will be initiated in her honor.

Equipment will be purchased for use at the Cerebal Palsy Clinic. Plans are under way for the annual auxiliary banquet which will be held in April. Reports were given by M. Brown, E. Lacey and E. Barry.

YMCA TEA TODAY

Ladies' Auxiliary to the YMCA will hold a tea in the Mural Room of the YMCA today at 3 o'clock.

St. Mark's Church Scene of Wedding

St. Mark's Anglican Church was the scene of the recent wedding of Dorothy Georgina Burton, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Burton, Coronation Avenue, and Lawrence Lindsay Hooper son of Mr and Mrs. A. Hooper, Duplin Road, at which the Rev. W. E. Greenhalgh officiated.

[illegible] register, Mrs Norma Linda sang "The Lord's Prayer." Guest pews were marked with rosettes of spring flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a tailored grey wool suit, complemented with a shell-pink straw hat trimmed with flowers, and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Betty Burton, wearing a moonlight blue suit with navy accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The groom had his brother, Mr. Bruce Hooper, as best man, and ushers were Mr. George Massick and Mr. Cliff Hooper.

At the reception, a three-tier wedding cake centred the table covered with a lace cloth and decorated with white candles and bowls of daffodils. Mr. Joe Lindal proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon trip to the mainland, the bride donned a black fur jacket over her suit.

Ruth Chapter No. 22, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a St. Patrick's Day tea in the Temple, Saanichton, March 14

Brides of Albion Chapter IODE will meet at headquarters on Thursday, March 12, at 8 p.m.

Plans Chuckwagon Jamboree

A chuckwagon jamboree will be held Saturday, March 21, at the CCF Hall, corner of Richmond and Cedar Hill Cross Road by the Fellowship and Speedwell Circles of the King's Daughters.

Supper which includes stew, baked beans, bread and pies all homemade will be served from 6.30 to 7.30 and old-time dancing with Scales orchestra will follow from 8.30 to 12 p.m.

Conveners are Mrs T. Ackerman and Miss M Craig with Mrs. M. Tindall and Miss A. Pye in charge of decorations.

All proceeds will go towards furnishing a room in the new wing of the Victoria Nursing Home.

Text Book Play Lives for Students

BY RAY BAINES

The magic of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" was transferred from the text book to the stage for several hundred Mount View High School students yesterday.

Presented by a company from Vancouver's Avon theatre under Dean Goodman, who also played the title role, the play found a readily appreciative teen-age audience.

Always ready to be more amused than moved, the stu- [illegible] bumbling Polonius and showed adult appreciation of Shakespeare's subtle wit.

Occasionally they found humor in places where it was not intended but this was probably more to the discredit of the company than to themselves. Judging by their applause after each scene, the students thoroughly enjoyed the live portrayal of what usually is just a chore in an English literature course.

Somewhat limited by a small stage and far from perfect acoustics, the players gave a good account of themselves.

EXCELLENT JOB

As Hamlet, Dean Goodman was generally good although he [illegible] little in spots. His instructions to the players was an excellent job we thought.

Mary Matthews was an attractive and competent Ophelia and William Lawson a noble and stalwart Horatio.

As Gertrude, the Queen, Nadyne Hamilton was lovely and regal—as nice a motive for murder and cuckoldry as we have seen for a long time.

With blue lighting and eerie sound, the ghost scene was well staged with Frank Lindsay a convincing spirit of the dead king—more convincing, in fact, than he was as Rosencrantz later in the play. Glyn Jones did a neat job as Polonius though some of his words were lost.

Adequate performances were turned in by the others, Arthur Keenan, Leonard Lauk, Don Pethley, Ron MacDonald, Earl Bearg, Wini Hutt and Jack McLaren.

The play will be put on today at Oak Bay Junior High School at 2 and 8 p.m., and Friday at Victoria High School at 2 p.m.

Delay Likely In Deciding Poje Appeal

Decision on the appeal of Tony Poje, of Duncan, may not be known for some weeks yet, according to Vancouver reports.

Alex B. Macdonald, counsel for the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL) has been asked to submit further written arguments by March 15 to the Supreme Court of Canada.

The union is appealing a sentence of three months in jail and a $3,000 fine against Poje, who was found guilty of contempt of court in a charge arising from the union's strike last summer and an incident at Nanaimo.

Sinclair Pays House Visit

Federal Fisheries Minister James Sinclair was a visitor to the legislative assembly Tuesday night.

He planned to visit his sister, Mrs. A. F. LePage, 978 Hampshire Road, before catching a plane back to Ottawa.

Mr. Sinclair said he had no comment to make on the provincial political scene. "I am just a visitor," he said.

Pieces of Hair Playing Role in Hit-Run Case

Pieces of hair are playing an important role in the city police court case in which Victoria taxi driver Robert Raynor is appearing on a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Raynor is charged with being the driver of the car which struck and injured Miss Pamela W Winslow, 1044 Craigdarroch, as she was crossing Yates Street at the Camosun intersection January 26.

At the time of the accident Miss Winslow was wearing a fur "shortie" coat. In court yesterday provincial analyst Thoma W. O. Davis described the coat as being dyed muskrat.

At the request of police authorities, he said, he had compared hairs found on the front of the accused's taxi cab with hair samples taken from Miss Winslow's coat. He expressed the belief the two hair groups studied had come from the same coat.

NO DAMAGE

Tuesday the court heard evidence involving small dents in front portions of the taxi cab in question. Yesterday Norman R. Thompson, employed as a car washer at the View Street Garage, said he had cleaned the accused's car between midnight and 3 a.m. of the day of the accident. There had been no damage to the front of the car at that time, he stated.

Defense counsel James Proudfoot asked if there had been any occasion at the garage in which a taxi of the C & C cab firm had reportedly been slightly damaged at the hands of a car washer. After considerable thought Mr. Thomson said there had been. Such an issue had been raised on a previous occasion in which No. 7 car of the cab company's fleet was involved.

Constable Douglas Grant, among police officers who inspected the accused's cab several hours after the accident when the vehicle was at the Government Street C & C stand, said he had noticed small dents on front portions of the car.

He also stated "It appeared the right side of the car front had been swept clean."

OBJECTION VOICED

Mr. Proudfoot immediately arose to voice strong objection to the "inference".

Upon questioning, continued Constable Grant, the accused driver had said he had started driving that day at 4 p.m. Before that time the taxi had been in the View Street garage. Accused said he had not been involved in any accident and had not noticed any damage to the front of his car.

Among exhibits entered yesterday were time or "work" sheets covering trips and times of each made by the accused on January 26. They were entered as exhibits by defense counsel, with city prosecutor objecting on the grounds that in his opinion the time slips were not completely accurate.

Constable Lester Clark, in charge of taxicabs in the city, said he had driven the accused's car late on the morning of January 26 in the course of a check.

He drove the car for a considerable distance. He had not noticed any damage to the front portions at that time.

That same night, with other police officers investigating the car, Constable Clark said he had noticed the front dents.

He had also noticed the right front door was binding. When the door was opened, he stated, it made a "binding, grating" noise.

A check had been made of practically all city taxicabs equipped with "dome" lights on the roof fronts, Constable Clark continued. The cab of the accused had been the only one found with any dents in the front.

Earlier evidence of the prosecution included remarks by an eyewitness to the accident that the car which struck Miss Winslow had an illuminated "taxi" sign on the front of its roof.

Magistrate H. C. Hall adjourned the case until next Tuesday, at the request of Mr. Proudfoot who asked for time to review certain portions of the prosecution's evidence.

Removal of Book Tax Urged

Removal of the 3 per cent sales tax on books was requested yesterday by a delegation from the B.C. Library Association and the Public Library Commission of B.C.

Request was laid before Finance Minister Einar Gunderson by Miss Theresa Pollock, provincial librarian and E. S. Robinson and C. K. Morrison of the commission.

The delegation said only four provinces in Canada tax books, and explained that the federal food tax on arts, letters and sciences.

"Cheaper books are of great importance to the consumer in British Columbia," the delegation submitted. "Where physical food is untaxed, mental food also following hearings of the Royal Commission on arts, letters and sciences.

Duke Works, Plays Hard, Likes To Get Things Done

Trying to plumb the depths of royal character is often unrewarding but the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of the Queen, is a man of strongly-marked characteristics. His high position has not changed his personality. This story, one of a series, describes his striking qualities.

In civilian matters, as in most other things, the Duke of Edinburgh shows a quick brain. He assimilates scientific subjects readily. While visiting the road research laboratory at Harmsworth, Middlesex, the duke looks through a measuring microscope on a soil moisture apparatus.—(CP photo.)

BY ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—It's easy to write a character sketch of the Duke of Edinburgh.

"Write him up as fast-moving, dashing, lively, breezy, anything like that and you're near the mark," says a Buckingham Palace official.

"The Duke leaves you with an impression of driving force," says another close observer of the Royal Family. "He likes to get things done. He works hard and plays hard."

Court officials comment on an exceptional briskness in the Duke's movements, and his quick, unobtrusive way of getting about. On tours of inspection he sometimes shows such hustle that the official timetable is upset.

QUICK CHANGE ARTIST

He even changes clothes quickly. This may be a trick picked up from his "Uncle Dickie" — Admiral Earl Mountbatten—who used special wardrobe wrinkles such as detachable gold braid to get a reputation as a quick change artist.

Vigor pervades the Duke's personality. He is forceful in argument, sometimes controversial. Perhaps because of his upbringing and naval background, he favors directness and admires a hard-hitting reply.

"He appreciates the dignity of his position, of course," friends say, "but like the late King he doesn't want you to regard him as sacred."

As a sportsman, he is amazingly versatile, but shrugs off any suggestion of exceptional aptitude. In the British phrase, he likes to "have a go" at anything from snooker to sailing. It is typical of his enthusiastic but unprofessional approach to sport that his shooting style wins little expert acclaim. He just blazes away indiscriminately.

LIKES INFORMALITY

He is likable offhand, casual—he has been seen in the palace in shirt sleeves—and occasionally a little impatient. He sometimes bridles at criticism.

Buckingham Palace officials are undisturbed by rare examples of impetuous behavior. One example occurred at Niagara Falls, Ont., during the 1951 Royal tour when the Duke's comments about photographers were audible and explicit.

Courtiers say this tendency is something that will pass.

"Perhaps it's true that the Duke is not yet wholly mature from the standpoint of the court," a royal spokesman said. "But that will come. And Philip, of course, is entitled to a certain latitude."

Philip likes movies and the theatre though he admits his own boyhood efforts in the plays of Shakespeare didn't reveal great promise. He doesn't care much for opera, court circles say. He likes the atmosphere of an English inn and his favorite drink is said to be draught beer.

SUNDAY POLO

He has his critics. Richard Higbed, regional organizer of the Lord's Day Observance Society, rapped him publicly for playing polo on Sunday at Cowdray Park, Sussex.

"Surely we don't have to copy everything His Royal Highness does?" said Higbed, and Philip was reported along. British papers brushed this criticism aside as "sniping by busybodies."

The tall athletic ex-Prince of the Hellenes, with his blond good looks and ability to wear crisply-cut uniforms, is definitely a man's man with an eye for an attractive woman. An Australian woman, having passed along the receiving line at a royal reception, decided to go around again. When she came up the second time, Philip said with a smile: "Haven't we met some place before?"

Like all Mountbattens Philip has salt water in his veins. At 21 he was second-in-command of the destroyer Wallace, which landed troops in Sicily for the 1943 invasion. Royalty, it seems, robbed the Royal Navy of an outstanding officer.

In civilian matters, too, the Duke shows a quick brain. He assimilates scientific matters readily and often impresses guides on industrial tours with his ability to reel off long technical terms. At school, classics and history were his worst subjects.

SOLICITOUS HUSBAND

Toward the Queen, Philip displays a tender protectiveness. It is said that when the couple returned from Kenya a year ago, after George VI's death, Elizabeth broke down just as their plane landed at London airport. The Duke spoke quietly to the pilot. The plane taxied slowly to the waiting party of officials by the longest route, giving the Queen time to recover her composure.

This, then, is Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh—sailor, sportsman, student of science and technology, uninhibited, an easy mixer with a basic seriousness.

As husband of the Queen in a troubled time, he appears to have a job worthy of his talents, the sort that a former teacher may have had in mind when he wrote:

"Philip is a born leader but he will need the exacting demands of a great service to do justice to himself. His best is outstanding, his second best is not good enough."

Luck of Irish Given Impetus By Offer of Electrical Company

Twins born on March 17, St. Patrick's Day, will double their parents' luck, according to Canadian Westinghouse Ltd.

The company plans to give identical electric washers and clothes driers to parents of all twins born in Canada on St. Patrick's Day.

The company is gambling against surprising statistics of multiple births, and 15,000 doctors across Canada are co-operating on expected births on March 17.

Statistics show more than 7,000 twin babies are born in an average year and another source claims that from 10 to 30 sets of twins may be born in Canada on any one day.

The company must be notified by collect wire of the birth of twins between midnight March 16 and midnight March 17. The wire must be sent to the Hamilton, Ont., headquarters of the company not later than midnight, March 20.

Delay Asked in Assessment Change Act

The Vancouver Board of Trade asked the government yesterday to postpone for a year passage of assessment equalization legislation designed as a base for the Rolston formula on education costs.

A delegation which met Finance Minister Einar Gunderson said the assessment equalization bill placed too much power in the hands of appointed officials.

It was argued also that the bill would add to the already "over-heavy burden" being borne by property owners for education costs.

The minister told the delegation the government planned to pass the assessment legislation during the current session. He stated, however, that the government would appoint an advisory body to assist the director of assessment to be named under the new act. On the board will be appointees of the B.C. Assessors Association, the Union of British Columbia Municipalities and the municipal affairs department.

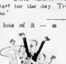
You can get it in any colour and length you need and you'll fit your suit with the finest.

Strange, Isn't It, how we can forget to see ourselves "as others see us" — then suddenly one day we realize that our hands are rough, red and old-looking. Well, no matter how busy we are, there's something we can do about that. In fact it's so simple, I'm sure you'll want to try it right away. Simply smooth on JERGENS LOTION after every watery chore. Even those new chemical soaps can't permanently roughen hands that are protected the Jergens way. You see because Jergens Lotion is liquid, it quickly penetrates to supply the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. So remember—Jergens Lotion ... because you care for your hands. Just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15.

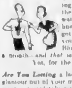
Looking For A Delicious Way to give your family a quick start? Simply serve hot "CREAM OF WHEAT" with a big spoonful of thick, luscious strawberry jam folded in. Top with milk or cream. Delicious! Yes, and easy too. You know, Quick "Cream of Wheat" takes only five minutes of boiling to cook to perfect smoothness. And best of all, hot "Cream of Wheat" is truly good for you. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. So give your whole family, children and grown-ups too, a good start—a quick start for the day. Treat them all to their favourite hot "Cream of Wheat."



Enthusiasm — lots of it — is what you'll get when you serve HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS to your family. Yes all five kinds of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans ... with Pork, in Tomato Sauce; with Sliced Wieners, Boston Style or Heinz Red Kidney Beans ... they're all family "favourites". And you'll like them because they're so easy to prepare. And so versatile. There are, literally, dozens of delicious ways to serve them. So keep a supply of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans on hand to please the family—and for a "quickie" meal when unexpected guests drop in. Heinz Beans make a wonderfully good, wonderfully economical meatless meal.

Have You Heard the good news? ... especially for you if your feet have been bothering you lately. The news is Phenylium, the new medication in BLUE-JAY Corn Plasters. Phenylium gets right down under your corn and helps push it out from underneath ... the first really new medication for corns and calluses in over seventy years. In actual tests Phenylium went to work 33% faster and worked 35% more surely than other leading remedies. Easy to see why folks with bothersome feet say it's the best news in years! I know you'll agree! ... ask for Blue-Jays with Phenylium at your favourite drug counter today.

But I Paid That! Have you ever thought you'd paid for something you'd bought and then received another bill for it? That kind of thing used to happen to me now and then ... and it was always embarrassing and sometimes downright troublesome. That, of course, was when I used to run my finances on cash payments and wasn't too careful about my "book-keeping". But no more of that. Now I pay for everything I possibly can by cheque and know exactly what's been paid at the end of the month when I pick up my cancelled cheques from my neighborhood BANK OF MONTREAL branch. It's the simplest, yet most efficient way I know to keep track of my spending. Why not try it? Open a Chequing Account at your nearest branch of the B of M today. You'll find it a great help in keeping your finances in order.



You Can Take A Bow when your husband raves about his snow-white shirts. But give some of the credit to Blue, for Blue does the best job of all in keeping clothes from turning yellow. When you're rinsing your wash to get the clothes clean, simply put a dash of Blue in the water—to get them really white. Blue is safe for the fine fabrics in your wash. Those beautiful sheets you got for your anniversary—the luncheon set that's your pride and joy ... don't take chances—use Blue to keep them white. Costs just a few pennies a month—and that makes good sense, doesn't it?

Yes, for the whitest wash, use RECKITT'S BLUE.

Are You Letting a lack of knowledge about feminine hygiene take the glamour out of your marriage? Modern women who want a completely satisfactory method of feminine hygiene use ZONITORS. Zonitors are effective greaseless, stainless snow-white vaginal suppositories—powerfully germicidal, yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues. And they're so very dainty and convenient to use. Ask your druggist for Zonitors tomorrow ... and write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for a free booklet giving important-to-know facts on feminine hygiene. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper.

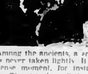
Where on Earth

Did 'God Bless You' Originate?

by TED ATWOOD



Among the ancients, a sneeze was never taken lightly. It was a tense moment, for instance, when Themistocles called on the gods just before his fleet sailed to meet the Persians in the Bay of Salamis. All hands stood at attention, when, suddenly, a sneeze rang through the air. With a sigh of relief Themistocles declared that it was a lucky sign straight from the gods. The victory would surely go to the Greeks. And it did!

From earliest times a sneeze was regarded as a powerful omen depending on the circumstances. A sneeze to the right, for example, was lucky; a sneeze to the left was unlucky. These beliefs undoubtedly originated among prehistoric peoples who thought that the soul had its place of dwelling in the head. Hence a sneeze was a direct warning, or an oracle, from the soul.

The custom of saying a blessing after a sneeze is widespread, but different tales are told of its origin. One old legend says that before the time of Jacob a man sneezed just once and when he did he died. But Jacob begged the Lord to take away this heavy sentence. When his prayer was granted he expressed his thanks by praising God every time his children sneezed.

The most reliable account, however, comes to us from an Italian historian who writes that during the sixth century, Rome was scourged with a virulent plague which struck suddenly and fatally. Since the first warning of the disease was an attack of sneezing, Pope Gregory decreed that to every one who sneezed a blessing should be given. To this day we follow that custom when, to any one who sneezes, we say, "God bless you."

ISLAND'S LARGEST DEALER SAYS
ATTENTION NIGHT HAWKS!
When you're looking the town over, you can't miss the Dazzling Lights on Yates, just above Quadra, where you can see the greatest display of fine Used Cars anywhere on the Island. And the Used Car values will dazzle you too. No wonder we sell far more cars than any other dealer on the Island.
AT WILSON MOTORS
THE DIFFERENCE IS ALWAYS LESS
It's the difference between the allowance on your present car and the low price you pay on a Wilson Used Car that really counts — and at Wilson's the difference is always less than anywhere else

Canada Pilots Given Aerial Post of Honor

FONTAINEBLEAU, France (NANA) Canadian Sabrejet pilots have been given Europe's aerial post of honor covering the vital communications highway that runs from Germany through Metz and Verdun to Paris, branching off near here for the U.S. base at Orleans and its port of entry at Bordeaux.

The skies above Metz near which historic frontier city they are stationed may become the ... of the future.

Assignment in this strategical front by Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander in chief, Allied air forces in Central Europe is a tribute to the high morale and efficiency of the Canadian pilots and the modernity of their equipment, supplied by the Canadian government.

This was a subject of a telegram sent by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander, to Canada's Defense Minister Brooke Claxton expressing his admiration for the national contribution in terms of skill and efficiency.

CAESAR'S LEGIONS

Caesar's legions first tramped the Metz-Paris highway. Napoleon took his troops to Russia along it. Bismarck, in 1870, marched his Prussians to Paris in reverse direction. Kaiser Wilhelm also, in 1914. Hitler dodged it because French defenses were waiting for him there. Gen George Patton Jr spearheaded his armor along it east to liberate Metz on Oct. 12, 1944.

American squadrons are on the Canadian left, the French are on their right, protecting the skyways to Strasbourg, the gateway to their beloved and vital Alsace.

In placing the Canadians between the forces of the two nations Gen. Lauris Norstad not only paid tribute to the prowess of Canadian airmen in two world wars and his appreciation of the 60 much-needed F-86 Sabrejets they brought with them, but to their traditional links both with Americans and French.

About one-third of the Canadians under his command are from French-speaking Canada. Thus they fitted the slot between French and Americans with the ease of the young man on the flying trapeze.

It was anticipated in some quarters that they would have been assigned to the skies above the Canadian brigade now serving with the British, Belgians and Dutch in the northern arms. The north is, however, adequately defended with jets of the British Royal Air Force.

General Norstad decided that the Canadian Royal Air Force deserved a mission of its own.

Thus, should war come the Canadian pilots are in the classical position where successive invaders have tried to make the quick break-through to Paris.

General Norstad's headquarters, in the forests of Fontainebleau, lie about 40 miles south of the Seine-side city. There are ... airmen stationed here on staff duties. General Norstad has appointed one of them Air Vice-Marshal John L. Plant of Vancouver, B.C., as his deputy for logistics.

The Canadians now occupy positions at AAFCE out of all proportion to their present numbers in the aerial combat zone. This disparity—while attribute in efficiency—is but temporary. The Canadian government is fast building up its air contribution to NATO to reach a total of some 300 Sabres that will form a complete Canadian air division.

SYSTEM'S CENTRE

Most Canadian enlisted men at headquarters here are assigned to the communications system. Here is the centre of a $9,000,000 micro-relay system which, when in full operation by means of a 17-station hook-up will free Central Europe's air forces from dependence on commercial lines of communication.

"Life in France is simple for us," said Flying Officer Edward A. Poitras of Winnipeg, Man., who is one of the 21 French Canadians at headquarters, "because so many of us speak the language."

But when it comes to technical problems, Air Vice Marshal Plant stresses the complexity. One of his jobs is to standardize fuel for jet planes.

"Here's what I found," he said. "An F-86 uses 300 gallons of gas in 45 minutes. I found the French using type JP-1, the American using JP-3, and the British and ourselves using JP-4. You can figure for yourself how many millions of gallons of different kinds of gas we should require for combat operation if we let this stand.

"In this field alone, one of the world's biggest jobs of standardization is being done. It would never have happened without NATO. Nations might have been allied, but pilots could not use each other's fields to refuel when out of gas in combat."

Two Gore Avenue Lots Reserved for Park Use

Two Gore Avenue lots, containing about 12 acres were reserved for park purposes by Central Saanich council Tuesday night.

The property is near Wallace Drive and was suggested for park purposes by Clr. Harold Andrew.

Council also authorized the compiling of a list of reservoirs in the municipality, with owners requested to register them at the municipal hall. After a list is compiled, council will then consider requesting fences for reservoirs deemed a public hazard.

Taken under consideration was a request of L. G. Thomas, Beach Drive, Brentwood, that a strip of municipally owned waterfront property in his vicinity be sold to property owners concerned.

The action would allow those concerned to build up their property and guard against erosion now wearing the municipal property and threatening some homes.

Mr. Thomas also suggested that any funds from the property sales be applied to improvement of a park on Verdier Road.

Referred to the police commission was a Saanichton PTA request that a 30-mile-an-hour speed limit be set on Mount Newton Cross Road in place of the present 50 m.p.h. limit.

Old Loan Written Off

MEDWAY, Mass. (AP)—A 35-year-old loan was written off the books Tuesday by a couple of First World War buddies. Ernest Love, a Boston policeman, saw William Munroe, owner of the Village Inn, for the first time since they were together in France in 1918. "Here's your watch," said Love. The watch, still running, was given Love for security when Monroe borrowed 100 francs from him. Monroe tried to repay the loan but Love refused.

Israeli Budget

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel's government has proposed a £216,000,000 ($605,000,000) budget for the coming fiscal year. It promises considerable income tax reductions despite a 25-per-cent jump over last year's budget total. The figures were presented to parliament Tuesday by Finance Minister Levi Eshkol who said the government would curtail services in order to permit the tax reductions.

Local Sailor Rises in Rank

The promotion of CPO Richard H. Meadows, 37, of 3054 Orillia Street, in the rank of acting commissioned constructor officer, has been announced by naval headquarters.

Upon completion of a six week officers' training course at HMCS Cornwallis, Mr Meadows will be appointed to the staff of the Principal Naval Overseer, West Coast.

Afghanistan was referred to as "Aryana" by the Greek geographer Strabo who lived in the first century BC.

Brentwood Waterworks Levy Cut 10 Per Cent for 1953

BRENTWOOD—A 10-per-cent reduction in waterworks levy was announced Monday at the fourth annual meeting of ratepayers of Brentwood Waterworks District.

V. C. Dawson, chairman reported that 12 new connections had been installed making the total 196. The revenue from sales of water was $6,000 and there was a surplus of $1,569 in the account.

Bonded indebtedness had been reduced by $7,000 and arrears $575, Mr Dawson said. The directors had decided on a reduction of 10 per cent in the taxes on properties for 1953.

The annual statement was approved by the ratepayers. Directors V. C. Dawson and George Williams were re-elected for three-year terms.

Mr. Dawson reported petition from residents of the Sea Drive area had asked that the waterworks system be extended to supply their properties, which are at present outside the area authorized in the Brentwood waterworks incorporation. ... the matter very extensively, he said, and felt it would be feasible to do this. It would necessitate the installation of an additional reservoir beside the present one.

Two or three residents of the area explained the need for the extension. Alternative routes of the new pipeline were described by Mr Dawson who pointed out that the residents of the new area would have to form a new district under the Water Act. After a lengthy discussion, the ratepayers passed a motion agreeing in principle to this extension, provided the residents of the new area succeeded in getting the authority of the provincial government to form a new district.

Pleads Guilty

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Grandma dropped her claim of insanity Tuesday and pleaded guilty to two charges of bank robbery. Mrs. Ethel Arata, 53, the widely-sought grandma of a series of bank hold-ups early in the winter will be sentenced April 3. When arrested last December 24 she said she held up banks to get money so she could continue to help the needy.

Reservists May Get More Equipment

Victoria's naval reserve division may soon have considerably more training equipment, according to Lieut. (E) Joseph Cuthbert, RCN (R), area engineer officer for the RCN's reserve branch, who is now in Victoria.

Assuming his present post late in 1951, with headquarters in Winnipeg, Lieutenant Cuthbert is now surveying training equipment in the engineering branches of naval divisions of Western Canada.

Diesel, steam engine and machine shop equipment were definitely needed at HMCS Malahat, he said yesterday, and although he could make no promises, there was a good chance that such equipment might be made available.

Naval headquarters will get a strong recommendation that such equipment be procured for Malahat "as soon as possible."

Uncle Wiggily Story--

By Howard Garis

MYSTERIOUS AIRPLANE

Uncle Wiggily had been talking to Mr. Marsh Wind. The wind had blown off the rabbit gentleman's hat. It had also blown away his neck scarf.

"It's all just my way of having fun," howled Mr. Marsh Wind.

"I think you are mean. Uncle Wiggily had said. This made the wind feel sad. The wind wanted to be kind and now he was going to do a kind trick for Mr. Longears.

"What sort of a kind trick are you going to play on me?" the rabbit uncle asked of Mr. Marsh Wind.

"I am going to take you back to your hollow stump bungalow and you will not have to hop one step," was the answer.

"How can you do that?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"I am going to blow you home," said the wind.

"Can you do it?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes, you do!" replied the rabbit.

"Then I can blow your hat the way home," went on Mr. Marsh Wind.

"Will it hurt me to be blown home?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"Did it hurt your hat and scarf to be blown?" asked the wind.

"No, it didn't," said Mr. Long ears.

"Then it will not harm you," promised the wind. "Now listen your scarf and hat are all around you. Tie your scarf over your hat and tie the ends of the scarf under your chin. Then nothing will be blown away from you but you will be here at home. Are you ready, Uncle Wiggily?"

Mr. Longears buttoned his overcoat tightly around him to put his scarf over the top of his hat and tied the ends of the scarf under his chin.

"Are you ready?" howled the March Wind again.

"I am ready," answered Mr. Longears. He was sitting on a flat stump that stuck up out of the ground in Cottontail Tree Hill. "Yes, I am ready for your kind trick, Mr. March Wind."

"Then here you go!" howled the wind.

A moment later Uncle Wiggily felt himself being blown and lifted into the air. He rose as easily as if he had been a toy balloon. Up and up and up he rose into the air.

"Be careful, please and don't drop me in the sea, Mr. March Wind!" said the rabbit gentleman.

"Thank you for calling me 'kind,' my rabbit friend," replied the wind. "I shall take good care of you."

"I think I am now on high enough," said Uncle Wiggily when he saw that he was up over the tops of the evergreen trees on Christmas Tree Hill.

"Yes, I am sure I am high enough," said the wind. "You will soon feel yourself being blown toward your hollow stump bungalow."

For a few moments Uncle Wiggily felt himself moving steadily gently in the air above the tree tops. Then, all at once, he felt himself being blown straight ahead. He soon could see his bungalow down at the bottom of the hill, beyond a clump of trees and not far from Frog Pond which was now frozen over. On and on through the air, above the trees, Uncle Wiggily was being blown by the wind.

"I am almost there"

"Yes, you will soon see Mr. March Wind," the rabbit called.

"Yes, I am still with you," was the answer. "You can't see me but you can feel me can't you?"

"Yes, I can," the rabbit uncle answered.

"I hope I am not blowing you too hard," then the wind.

"No, you are not blowing me too hard," replied Mr. Longears.

"I am a sort of mysterious airplane, I guess. At least that's how I must look to any one down on the ground who looks up and sees me."

"Yes, you must look like a mysterious plane," said the wind. "How do you like my kind trick?"

"It is both good fun," said Uncle Wiggily. "But how about getting me a happy landing when I get to my bungalow?"

"Have no fear," the wind promised.

"You shall have a happy landing." promised the March wind. "Now I am going to blow you around and around you. Tie your scarf over your hat and tie the ends of the scarf under your chin. Then nothing will be blown away from you but you will be here at home. Are you ready, Uncle Wiggily?"

Mr. Longears buttoned his overcoat tightly around him to put his scarf over the top of his hat and tied the ends of the scarf under his chin.

"Are you ready?" howled the March Wind again.

"I am ready," answered Mr. Longears. He was sitting on a flat stump that stuck up out of the ground in Cottontail Tree Hill. "Yes, I am ready for your kind trick, Mr. March Wind."

"Then here you go!" howled the wind.

Winning Contract

By Howard Schenken and Richard L. Frey

This was another deal from the World Championship Team of Four Match which helped the American team, captained by Howard Schenken, to pile up a part of its 8,260 point margin of victory. Again it was bidding that told the story, although in this deal there was an element of luck added.

It is difficult to interpret and play the bidding when presented the North player for Sweden to pass his first hand when neither side was vulnerable and the opponents were not. It does not pay in trap non-vulnerable on pointless exerps perhaps when your side is not vulnerable either. To pass such a hand as North's looks being frozen out of the bidding entirely and eye the opponents' plans" said it a tempting given the opponents ever opportunity for a cheap ex change of information. In light of the bidding East for America opened the five of spades— West's ace, partner's two—trump. It was up to East to win the trick and lead through dummy's weak holding in West's North couldn't afford to grab the ace on West's spade return, for this would establish three spade tricks for East. After winning the spade ace Jane Fazey Wang turned out. She looked up. Then she ran back into the bungalow. Uncle Wiggily could see that Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy was very excited.

What happened next will be told in tomorrow's story. But I hope the television doesn't start showing pictures upside down, the face of the clock will have to stand on its head to see them.

A PADRE IN PRINT

BY REV. WILLIAM HILLS

Once I heard it said that the pulpit was the coward's castle, and that the ministry was the haven of all those who couldn't succeed in any other vocation and profession. This, of course, is a libel against a dedicated body of men they are first and foremost the servants of God. I am not a Roman Catholic, but I am reminded that the most exalted figure in that Communion bears the title "Servus Servorum Dei"—"Servant of the Servants of God."

Why does a lad enter the ministry of the Christian Church? To make a lot of money? If that is the case, and he happens to be a reasonably healthy specimen of humanity he will make a lot more joining the police force or sweeping the streets. Parsons never need special help in computing their income tax returns.

A man might enter the ministry out of a desire to help people, or to make the world better, or to find one vocation which is purer and more altruistic than other vocations, but in actual fact he becomes an ordained man because he cannot be otherwise even if he could! God calls him and responding to that call, nothing will prove to be an attractive substitute or an insurmountable barrier. That is the way it is.

But having achieved his heart's desire, he will find that serving the servants of God is, quite literally, a bed of roses, thorns and all.

Some members of his congregation will expect him to jump to do their bidding at the first ring of the telephone bell irrespective of any other considerations. Others again will strip him of his humanity, forgetting that he had an earthly mother and father, and demand of him the attributes of a demi-god. But most of them, thank God, will take him to their hearts. I thought of all this as I surveyed my mail.

* * *

The last time we used the phrase "alcoholic liquors" in this column was the last day of November last year. Yet I have just received a letter dated February 11, 1953, and post marked March 6, which seems to have some reference to that occasion. There is no address and it is signed merely by the initials "I.M.H.," but it is so typical of a certain so-called "Christian" attitude and mood, that I can not resist the temptation of sharing it with you. Here it is just as it is.

"In the Scriptures you will find Jesus speaking to the people. He said leave them alone they be blind leaders of the blind and if the blind lead the blind both shall fall into the ditch. Matt. 15:14. I am sure you and others are blind when it comes to real born again experience. You would not want to see so much liquor sold. Many young people are sure going to drink when it will be so easy to get. May our blessed Lord have mercy on your soul and may your hand be clean of the blood of same. May you not one day say I am the cause of some going to hell. I really hope that no one takes you for a real man of God. Paul speaks about being a stumbling block. You sure would be one to me. Jesus says our body is the temple of the living God and if so why do we defile it. You will have to stand before the judgment bar of God. Give yourself to Jesus now and be made whole. These are some passages in the word of God, Pro., 20:1, Isa., 28:7; Hab., 2:5; Hosea, 4:11, Pro., 27:17, 23:20, 23:30, 31-32; Col., 2:21. You need the prayer of God's people. Yours in Christ, I.M.H."

* * *

If this correspondent would stop playing scriptural arithmetic and really study the Word of God he or she would really see that the reference quoted from Matthew has nothing whatsoever to do with what goes into the mouth but what comes out of it. The actual words of Christ Jesus are these: "Hear, and understand. Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man, but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man." The letter quoted above seems to be a good example of what Our Lord meant.

Can it be that my correspondent has not bothered to read the second chapter of St. John, where Jesus changed the water into an excellent wine? Why should the Son of God do that if wine, of itself, is so terribly wrong and evil? John writes, "This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory, and his disciples believed on him."

The trouble, my friend, is not in the cup but in the man who takes to the cup too long. It is the abuse, not the use, of anything which Christianity condemns, and this condemnation extends itself not only to alcoholic liquors but also to food which is gluttony, to money which is avarice, to the body which is lust, to religion which is fanaticism, and to the tongue which is slander.

Mountbatten Named As Aide to Queen

LONDON (AP) The Queen named her husband's uncle, Admiral Earl Mountbatten, as a personal aide-de-camp Tuesday night. The appointment was announced in the Royal calendar of The London Gazette.

Suffocating "Hot Flashes" stopped or strikingly relieved—in doctors' tests!

• Are you going through "change of life"—suffering the "hot flashes," nervous tension, irritability, weakness and other types of functionally-caused distress of this difficult time?

Then ... here's hope for you. In tests by doctors—on their own patients—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave relief from such distress. Complete or striking relief! In case after case!

Scientifically modern action!

Surely you know that Lydia Pinkham's is scientifically modern in action! Surely you know what it has done for others!

But do you know what it will do for you? Not if you haven't experienced the relief of tension, flashes and irritability it so often brings at such times!

Before another day has passed—try Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound or the new improved Tablets (with added iron) and discover how much easier your "change of life" may be!

NOTE Lydia Pinkham's is grand, too, for functional cramps and "weak feelings" of menstruation! Millions of younger women and girls take it regularly—throughout the month—for this purpose!

Lydia Pinkham's action through sympathetic nervous system—relieves distress of the hot waves!
